Founding family is honored

Granite City Steel President James V. Stack, who made the presentation, and his wife are shown with them at St. Elizabeth Medical Center's 75th anniversary dinner Thursday night.

New wing will boost employment

Utilization of the new Ketteler Center of St. Elizabeth Medical Center is likely to increase employees from the present total of over 1,100 to the range of 1,300 to 1,400, it was announced at SEMC's 75th anniversary dinner Thursday night at the Media Club.

The 90-bed psychiatric wing near Washington and Niedringhaus avenues is part of a major modernization and expansion program in the late 1970s, following earlier hospital expansions that have kept SEMC up-to-date despite many changes in hospital concepts and methods.

The Most Rev. Joseph A. McNicholas, D.D., bishop of the Springfield Catholic Diocese, conducted a Mass and blessing of the new structure Thursday afternoon and helped present awards at the formal diamond jubilee dinner that night.

Yesterday afternoon, hundreds attended outdoor dedication ceremonies at Ketteler Center and then toured the new building, which is to be placed in use in June. Portions visited included patient rooms on the top floor, occupational and recreational therapy areas on the ground floor and a gymnasium on the basement level. A corridor connects the new facilities with the remainder of the medical center.

Word of the staff increase was given by Attorney Leo H. Konzen, chairman of the SEMC governing board, who presided at both the banquet and Sunday's ceremonies.

Guest speaker on the both occasions was Bob Hardy, director of special events at Radio Station KMOX and a past potentate of the Ainal Shrine Temple. The station has presented many special programs on health information and the field of mental illness.

Hardy praised the work of SEMC and its operators, the Sisters of Divine Providence. He noted that the Shrine operates hospitals for treatment of crippled children and centers for treatment of burns, and that the Scottish Rite is active in aiding victims of schizophrenia.

Describing the difference between emotional health and illness as a "fine line," Hardy called for an end to stigmas associated with mental problems. He said such facilities as the new Ketteler Center can go a long way toward alleviating such illness and perhaps developing a cure.

A ribbon was cut at the entrance doors to Ketteler on Sunday and a large cornerstone plaque was unveiled.

Sister Mary Thomas, president of the Medical Center, recalled a ceremony held in Germany a half century ago in which a perpetual lamp was lighted in

Seek levee board split despite court victory

Madison County assumed official control of the Metro-East Sanitary District Friday morning when a decision of the Illinois Supreme Court was announced affirming Walter "Shang" Greathouse of Granite City as a member of the board of commissioners and officially removing Commissioner Robert Eastern of East St. Louis.

State Rep. Sam Wolf informed the three Madison County members of the sanitary board just before Friday morning's sanitary board meeting in Washington Park that the court had released its opinion giving control of the district to Madison County with three members on the board while reducing the St. Clair County membership to two commissioners.

Greathouse told the Press-Record, "We received the decision about 10 minutes before Friday's board meeting, but we did not mention it at the meeting. We did not want to rub salt in their wounds. However, during the meeting, a news reporter got a call and he mentioned it to the trustees at the end of the meeting."

Board President Russell Robinson of Granite City stated, "I am just tickled to death. I even kissed Shang when I heard. I believe it is important to note that we still want to split the district, even though we now have the upper hand and could control the whole district."

Robinson said the first action to be taken by the board under Madison County control will be layoffs to bring expenses in line with available finances. "The layoffs are going to be big, because we are broke," he summarized.

Responding to criticism that a meeting of the sanitary district board was held Thursday morning without public notice, Robinson said, "We are calling that a discussion with the attorneys and not an official meeting." At that session, St. Clair County commissioners agreed to join with Madison County in efforts to divide the district.

"All actions taken at that session were affirmed at the regularly-scheduled meeting Friday morning. We did give the sanitary district's attorneys the power to work with our legislators to split the district," Robinson stated.

He said he does not expect Eastern to attend any more of the district's meetings, since he should be served with official notification of the court's

Carpooling planned here—stations, officials meet

Plans are under way to begin a carpooling effort at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville during the summer quarter for students living in the Granite City area.

The purpose of the effort is to help students in combating rising costs of gasoline and conserving energy, according to James Bridwell, chairman of the department of earth sciences, planning and geography at the university, and a member of the University Transportation Committee.

Letters have been mailed to students in the Granite City area, inviting them to attend an informational meeting in the Kickapoo Room of the University Center on Wednesday, May 23, at 1:30 p.m.

University administrators will be on hand to advise the students as to the assistance they can expect from the university in developing transportation plans among themselves, Bridwell said.

Within the next few days, maps will be placed in the University Center and at the vehicle registration counter in the John S. Rendleman Building. Identification pins will be provided so that those interested in sharing rides can pinpoint their places of residence. Cards will be made handy for providing other necessary information, including names, addresses, telephone numbers, hours on campus, and the degree of availability in sharing driving responsibilities.

A telephone, with a one-way line, will be placed near the University Center

State officials and representatives of the state's gasoline retailers and consumer interests met Thursday in Springfield to determine ways to minimize inconvenience in obtaining gasoline and other fuels in Illinois.

Frank Beal, director of the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources, said, "I believe we made significant progress toward ensuring that motorists throughout Illinois will escape the aggravation and uncertainty plaguing drivers in other parts of the country."

The meeting, which was opened with remarks by Governor James R. Thompson, was called to develop voluntary practices that could be adopted by gasoline retailers to minimize problems for dealers and drivers.

"Although some gasoline service stations are owned and operated by oil companies, many of the state's gas stations are operated by independent businessmen trying to stay in business and serve the public in these very uncertain days," Beal said.

"Many dealers are concerned that motorists will overreact in light of the situation in California and will vent their frustration and anger on the

ON-SITE HEARINGS by the Granite City Plan Commission Thursday afternoon dealt with two commercial rezoning cases on Pontoon and Maryville roads within a block of each other. Plan Commission members and approximately 50 residents of the area are seen walking south along Maryville Road to the second of the two rezoning sites. At far right, leading the group, are Commission Chairman Dave Morgan and board member Mick Worthen. Both requests for rezoning to C-1 commercial were denied by the commission. The first, at 2126 Pontoon Road, was requested by William Frazier for use as an insurance company office, and the second, approximately 1,000 feet south of the Colonial Bank of Granite City, was requested by Henry Ross for the construction of a Happy Joe's fast food restaurant.

Maryville Road—homes only or another 'Nameoki Road'?

The Granite City Plan Commission met on-site for the first time Thursday afternoon at the request of Mayor Paul Schuler. A key issue in the hearings was the extent to which Maryville Road is to be commercial or residential, and the sentiment of most of those present was for emphasis on residential.

The commission heard two requests for zoning and the on-site hearings were arranged for the convenience of the neighbors. Approximately 50 residents from the immediate area were present.

The first request heard was for the rezoning of a residence at 2126 Pontoon Road, at the corner of Maryville Road, to a C-1 commercial designation for use as an insurance office of William Frazier.

His office is presently located at 2355 Pontoon Road.

Alderman Paul R. Bowler, seventh ward, was spokesman for the group of citizens opposed to the C-1 zoning.

After hearing the arguments for and against the zoning action, the plan commission denied the request.

The second zoning request was by Henry Ross for C-1 zoning of a tract of land of approximately 1.5 acres located about 1,000 feet south of the Colonial Bank of Granite City. The tract is adjacent to a larger tract of land owned by the bank which has already been zoned

C-1 and is to be used for the development of a shopping area.

Attorney Maurice Dailey represented Ross at the hearing. Dailey said that the zoning was requested to allow the construction of a Happy Joe's fast food restaurant.

Again speaking for the residents, Alderman Bowler said that granting the C-1 zoning would begin a domino effect along Maryville Road making it "another Nameoki Road."

Residents then showed petitions listing 261 names of people living in the area who are opposed to the commercialization of Maryville Road.

After further discussion the commission denied the second request. Action was also taken on three annexation requests.

The first was a request by Fuchs and Sons Construction Supply, 1600 Bremen Ave., which was tabled until the owners resubmit the request for the annexation with a request for a zoning change to C-1. The property is now zoned R-2, residential.

The second annexation request by Elmer Ross, 4669 Maryville Road, was denied since the property is not contiguous with the city boundaries at this time.

Annexation of the home of Joseph Brien, 2510 Pine St., was endorsed by the board.

Senate wants road budget power for commissioners

A bill which would give township highway commissioners control of their own budgets—a power now exercised by the town boards—was approved by the Illinois Senate on a 32-20 vote Tuesday and now goes on to the House.

The bill could have considerable impact on Quad-Cities townships, particularly Nameoki Township, where several expenditures by the highway department have met opposition from the town board.

State Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) introduced the legislation, saying that the town boards in some townships try to embarrass the highway commissioners by denying needed funds due to political differences. He denied that the bill was introduced due to differences in Edwardsville Township between the board and the highway commissioner.

Vadalabene said that since highway commissioners are elected, they should control their budgets and should try to determine what the tax levy for roads will be.

Opponents noted the control of highway budgets was taken away from highway commissioners several years ago, because the commissioners were not accountable to anyone and an additional "check and balance" on highway department spending was needed.

In recent years, the town boards of both Nameoki and Chouteau townships have denied the payment of bills which exceeded the highway departments budgets.

Airman Beasley is reassigned

Airman First Class David A. Beasley, son of Mrs. Carolyn H. Sanders of 2418 Logan Ave., Granite City, has received a new assignment following graduation from the aircraft maintenance specialist course conducted by the Air Training Command at Sheppard AFB, Tex.

Airman Beasley, who was trained to maintain, repair and service aircraft currently in use by the Air Force, will go to Homestead AFB, Fla., for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

Completion of the course earned the individual credits towards an associate in applied science degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman is a 1975 graduate of Granite City High School.

Attend homemaking workshop

"Person-to-Person" was the theme for a workshop attended by program assistants and community workers from Madison County's Consumer and Homemaking Education Program (CHEP).

Beatrice Bagby, University of Illinois Child and Family specialist, taught the program assistants how to improve family communications and understanding through shared activities.

The workshop was conducted by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with the Department of Adult, Vocational and Technical Education—Illinois Office of Education.

Attending the workshop from Madison County were: Alton area, Vivian Allen, Juanita Merrifield, Lily Wilson, and Nora Woods; Madison and Granite City area, Lenora Brown, Eva Davenport, Wilma Hancock and Drew Johnson.

The objective of CHEP is to teach limited resource families management and homemaking skills. Among lessons taught to homemakers are credit, budgeting, food buying, child development, health and community resources.

Program assistants and community workers make home visits, conduct group meetings and work cooperatively with other agencies.

More information about CHEP may be obtained from Carolyn Korns, P.O. Box 665, Edwardsville, (618) 656-9227 Monday-Friday and (618) 677-7345 Monday only and (618) 452-9520 Wednesday only.

GRANT FUND HEARING
Madison County will conduct a public hearing at 7 p.m. Thursday, May 24, at the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville. The purpose of the hearing will be to review areas targeted for funds under the Small Cities Community Development Block Grant Program (CDBG) application which will be submitted on June 18.

"At the same time, it is important that government, gasoline dealers and consumer groups work together, to keep motorists informed of the availability of fuel, to make sure that gas stations are open so motorists are able to get gas when it is needed, and to see that panic-buying, tank-topping and lining-up do not occur," Beal said.

The generally accepted conclusion of the participants in the meeting was that fuel supplies are adequate for May if motorists practice effective conservation.

"Now is not the time for California-type controls," Beal said. "If we work together, voluntary efforts can avert the need for such controls."

"But, in the event that a serious situation does arise, Gov. Thompson has the authority to impose all necessary controls. And Illinois government is prepared to recommend the specific controls suited to whatever circumstances might exist and to implement those controls."

At the meeting, participants supported the development of an information system intended to provide motorists with accurate, reliable and timely information.

As discussed, an adoption of a uniform signaling system composed of colored flags; a gasoline station flying a red flag would be indicating it was closed; a yellow flag would indicate a station was open for services but was not selling gasoline; and a green flag would indicate that gasoline is available for sale.

Participants also said that individual gasoline stations would take steps to alert motorists if it became necessary for a particular station to require minimum purchases to discourage tank-topping or to set maximum purchase limits to stretch diminishing supplies.

During the meeting, the participants asked the Illinois government consider a number of other means of reducing problems for gasoline stations. Beal will inform Gov. Thompson of the suggestions.

The group also pledged support in informing the federal government of problems resulting from federal regulations and policies.

"We agreed that everyone — dealer and motorist alike — will suffer in the event of panic or a severe shortage, and we all want to avoid that."

"Illinois motorists, based on the evidence, are by and large taking some of the right steps toward conserving ruling immediately.

Robinson said one of the first tasks the Madison County trustees will undertake is being sure that all equipment assigned to Madison County is returned to this county. He said the only thing he knew had been taken to St. Clair County was an old pickup truck, but would be checking the inventory to determine if anything else should be returned.

"I won't let my equipment go down there. Ownership of all this equipment will have to be decided by attorneys or an arbitrator when this district splits," Robinson said.

Previous votes by the board, particularly since it split 3-3 along county lines over most major issues, will have to be reviewed to determine if they should be upheld, it was indicated.

Among those votes were ones where the Madison County trustees fired Executive Director Wendell Wheadon and Chief of Operations James Spanos.

Robinson said whether Wheadon and Spanos will be retained now that Madison County has control of the district is being considered, but Robinson is of the opinion that since the district is about to be split, the board should retain the two officials.

"I think we should go ahead and work with them three to four weeks. I don't think it will take longer than that. State Representatives Monroe Flinn of St. Clair County and Sam Wolf of Granite City will co-sponsor this bill, which should go very fast."

Robinson said he does not believe a review of recent split votes by the board will be necessary, in light of the recent developments, but said that would be up to the attorneys.

Greathouse commented he is glad the district is being split, because it was "out of hand."

Two years ago, salaries totaled $831,000, and this year, the figure jumped to $790,000. For the last fiscal year, May through April of this year, the salaries totaled $897,000, Greathouse said.

"No matter how you cut it, there is no way you can justify these payroll increases. We criticized Wheadon for it and he said some administrative decisions have to be made on who will be kept," Greathouse said.

Greathouse said it was made clear to him that there would be no borrowing until the district splits and every effort will be made to reduce the debt before the split takes effect.

At Friday morning's meeting, the commissioners approved the district's regular payroll after the certified public accountant, who had checked the district's financial condition, indicated he felt there were sufficient funds to pay all employees, but not enough for overtime payments.

It probably will be necessary to cash in certificates of deposit for municipal retirement and insurance, to cover the paychecks, Robinson said.

memory of Bishop William Emmanuel Baron Von Ketteler of Munster, Germany, who founded the Order of Sisters of Divine Providence. He lived from 1811 to 1870, and entered the priesthood in 1851 after practicing civil law for 18 years.

She voiced hope that, like the lamp contributed by German coal miners, the Ketteler Center can "create a light to dispel the darkness" associated with mental illness.

The invocation was offered by the Rev. David Fielding, pastor of Hope Lutheran Church and president of the Quad-Cities Ministerial Association. State Rep. Sam Wolf represented legislators, Mrs. Mike (Winnie) Sasyk, wife of the mayor of Madison, represented local mayors and Alderman Everett Morlen represented City Council members yesterday. On Thursday night, those introduced included Mrs. Paul (Billie) Schuler, wife of the mayor of Granite City.

Mrs. Helen Wurtz was recognized yesterday as the first child born at the hospital and Mrs. Nora Callis as a pioneer registered nurse at St. Elizabeth. Music was provided Sunday by the Granite City High School South band directed by Terry Waffler.

Highlighting the banquet were award presentations, including the Niedringhaus Award given by Granite City Steel President James V. Stack to George W. Niedringhaus III, representing the Niedringhaus family, the fourth-generation descendant of the late Erwin Niedringhaus, who was a GC Steel vice-president.

Receiving the De La Roche Award commemorating the co-founder of the sisters' order was Hardy, representing KMOX. It was presented by M. B. Mionski, secretary of the hospital's governing board.

Community service awards to doctors and SEMC board members were presented by Bishop McNicholas and Dr. Donald C. Schnellmann, president of the medical staff.

Konzen traced the growth of services he described by the hospital has become a medical center.

Bishop McNicholas noted his many ties to this community, including that of playing second base for a softball team in leagues at Wilson Park from 1945 to 1949.

A slide series gave SEMC's 75-year history in pictures and sound during the banquet.

Mrs. Marie Kircher dies

Mrs. Marie A. Kircher, 77, of the Anna Henry Nursing Home, Edwardsville, died at 4:40 a.m. Friday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Belleville, following a long illness.

Mrs. Kircher was born in East St. Louis, but lived many years in the Quad-City area. She was self-employed and was of the Catholic faith.

Her husband preceded her in death in 1969. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Max (Pauline) Dappert of Glen Carbon.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

map. Upon picking up the phone, the student will be directly connected to the vehicle registration counter where personnel will provide answers to carpooling queries.

"We hope to interest enough people in the effort so that we can expand the project to Alton, Edwardsville and Belleville for the fall quarter," Bridwell said.

As the cost of gasoline spirals upward, Bridwell feels there will be greater interest in the carpooling effort.

"We have become accustomed to an extreme mobility, with our automobiles acting as status symbols," Bridwell said. "We have not yet learned the value of sharing our cars with other people," he added.

Bridwell doesn't feel that buses are the answer to the transportation dilemma at SIUE.

Just about every family has a car, and approximately 90 percent of the people who drive to campus are alone, he said.

Shared rides is just one way of cutting down on fuel consumption, he said, along with its added benefit of cutting down on the costs of education.

Eight grade graduations in the parochial schools will include 6 p.m. Wednesday, May 23, at St. Margaret Mary, 1900 St. Clair Ave., to be followed by a family dinner in the school cafeteria.

Both Lakeview and Gateway teach students through the high school level.

L. G. Webb, 37, is wounded fatally

Larry G. Webb, 37, of 2807 Sunset Drive, was found in the bed of his pickup truck on Sandy Lake Road behind the Zephyr, service station on Route 162 at 10:25 a.m. Saturday with a bullet wound to his head and he died at 12:25 p.m. Saturday at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Webb was not the same Larry Webb who is on probation for reckless homicide, Madison County sheriff's deputies said.

They said a .38-caliber gun was found in the bed of the truck with Mr. Webb and a note to his wife was found in the cab of the truck.

Deputies first were told that a man had pointed a gun at some young men near Horseshoe Lake. Detective Steve Nann of the sheriff's department was within a few blocks and talked to the youths.

The youths said they were going to retrieve one youth's car which had become stuck Friday night near Horseshoe Lake and they found Mr. Webb's pickup truck bled to his wife was found in the cab of the truck.

They told Detective Nann that when they asked Mr. Webb to move his truck, he aimed a pistol at them and told them to leave. They went to the nearby service station and called deputies.

Nann said that within five minutes of that incident, he and Sgt. John Wiese arrived where the truck was parked and found Mr. Webb in the bed of the truck with a bullet wound to his head. He was still alive and Lt. Ted Nizinski, who had just arrived, called a Granite City ambulance to take Mr. Webb to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

He stopped breathing when he was placed in the ambulance, but efforts to revive him were temporarily successful and he was examined at the medical center and was transferred to the St. Louis hospital where he died.

An autopsy was performed in Granite City Sunday, and results have not been announced.

Mr. Webb was a lifelong resident of Granite City and was employed 16 years as a switchman for the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Judith Webb; a daughter, Cathy Webb, and a son, Steven Webb, both at home, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester (Lucille) Webb of Granite City. Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

Harold Terrell, 50, dies

Harold O. Terrell, 50, of 808 Franklin St., Madison, an Army veteran of World War II, died at 11:50 p.m. May 15 at the Veterans Hospital at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Passenger on cycle killed

Karen C. Baker, 28, St. Louis, was fatally injured in a car-motorcycle accident on Route 3, about 850 feet north of Thorngate Drive, at 6:55 p.m. Sunday.
State police said Mrs. Baker was a passenger on a motorcycle driven by Michael Douglas Baker, 28, St. Louis, which collided with a car driven by Charles E. Johnson, 44, St. Louis.
Both vehicles were southbound on Route 3 when the motorcyclist swerved to the left to pass the auto, but apparently misjudged the distance and the front of the cycle struck the left rear of the car, troopers said.
Michael Baker was taken by ambulance to St.

Hearing on Chouteau budgets set

Chouteau Township officials will hold a public hearing on the tentative budgets for the 1979-80 fiscal year at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the Midwest Motel.
Tentative budget totals are: town fund, $77,545; general assistance, $47,000; revenue sharing, $52,328; and anti-recession fiscal assistance act, $2,200, which are carry-over funds, not spent, but appropriated for eyeglasses, hearing aids and special medical assistance to township residents.
Revenue sharing fund allocations include funds for administration of a grant to aid in the tapping of the new sanitary sewers, a sound system for the township hall, community activities, operating of the township hall, kitchen equipment, ambulance service payments, mosquito abatement control and financial aid to the Hartford Park Board and the South Roxana and Mitchell fire departments.

Library gets 9-decade files

After nearly a century of reporting news of Madison and St. Clair counties, the Metro-East Journal closed its doors March 30 in East St. Louis, but its record of the past continues to live in the Lovejoy Library at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.
Lindsay-Schaub Newspapers, owner of the Journal, has given the paper's " morgue " to SIUE.
Marvin Solomon, social sciences librarian at Lovejoy Library, says, "The 400,000 newspaper clippings, 1,328 documents and 639 reels of microfilm represent a journalistic approach to the social, political and cultural history of this region since 1869. It will have great research value for faculty and students."
The materials are a valuable addition to the library's special research collections, which are maintained to help preserve the social, intellectual and cultural heritage of the immediate area and the Mid-Mississippi Valley.
Several MEJ reporters, some of them mass communications graduates of SIUE, have accepted positions at other newspapers or in public relations, according to William Boyne of Belleville.
The East St. Louis newspaper, whose first editor was James Kirk and its last Richard Stegeman, had several names during its long history. Among them were "East St. Louis Journal" and "The St. Clair and Madison Counties Evening and Sunday Journal."

Tops in police course

Madison County Deputy Sheriff Greg Homyer of Granite City graduated first in his class of 38 students at the police training institute, University of Illinois, Urbana, last week.

He received the scholarship award plaque for his achievements, which included a grade point average of 95.7 percent in the class.

Homyer was the first deputy hired under Sheriff Emil Toffant Dec. 19, 1978, and Toffant and Major Ewin Knezevich of the sheriff's department attended the graduation exercises at the Law School Auditorium in Urbana.

Homyer is the son of Ronald L. Homyer and Nora J. Thornberry, both of Granite City.

Among the training officers for the class were several from the Madison County Sheriff's Department, including Deputy Richard Anderson of Granite City.

May check for illegal tap-ons

Persons whose home sewers have been illegally tapped onto Granite City's sanitary sewers may soon be "caught" by the city's underground televising system.

Aldermen Everett Morlen told the city council Tuesday night that he was told by a former resident of Miracle Avenue that several sewers have been tapped into the city sewers for as long as 15 years and have never received sewer bills.

Morlen requested Street Superintendent Lionel Portell to use the city's televising and grouting equipment, which televises the insides of the sewers, to check for illegal tap ons and report any found to the city council.

He also requested that the North Granite City area be checked for illegal tap ons, as soon as possible.

The council allowed Cecil Phelps, 3008 Nameoki Drive, to speak and outline the problems caused by heavy trucks using his street to get to a nearby industry.

"The heavy trucks and poor road conditions on Nameoki Drive are literally shaking my house to pieces. The trucks run all hours, from 5 a.m. to midnight. We need a much better road out there. I ask you to come to North Granite immediately and save my house," Phelps asked.

Fourth Ward Alderman Warren Decatur asked that an ordinance be prepared setting a 20 mile-per-hour speed limit on Nameoki Drive for trucks as a temporary measure to help until the city can afford to improve 25th Street and Nameoki Drive.

First Ward Alderman Charles Douglas then asked the city clerk to prepare a listing of load limits, truck routes and traffic control ordinances to aid police in enforcing the regulations.

No official action on the request was taken when Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer said such lists have been prepared in the past and are not of much help in enforcement.

An ordinance also was requested increasing the pay of part-time city employees from $2.75 to $2.90 per hour, to comply with the federal minimum wage law.

An ordinance prohibiting parking on State Street, directly across from The Den tavern and restaurant, was approved without discussion on the first reading. It was requested by Alderman Fred "Pat" Schuman.

The ordinance establishing the manpower for the police department was amended to add one patrolman position. The ordinance now allows a chief, a lieutenant colonel, three captains, four lieutenants, 10 sergeants and 33 patrolmen.

When your vacuum cleaner dies

Help! My vacuum cleaner died. The dumb thing has left me alone and completely unable to cope.

How did anyone get along before those fantastic dirt removing devices were invented? Someone told me that women used to pull their rugs up off of the floor, drag them outside, hoist them up over a fence or clothes line, and beat them to death.

Well, I just can't do that. My rugs are all nailed down, with the exception of those that I can just pick up and throw into the washer. What am I to do without my trusty vacuum?

On Saturday, my traditional clean-up-the-house day, I decided that I had to do something. I picked up my broom and went to work on the carpets. That lasted about 10 minutes. I realize now that I could never have made it as a pioneer woman. That broom and I just can't seem to get along. After that 10 minutes, I was more than ready to call it a day.

I cannot imagine the way my great-great-grandmother must have lived. No wonder she had to get up at the crack of dawn. It must have taken her most of the day just to clean up the house.

What strength she must have had! I fell apart after just a few minutes with a broom. Of course, she didn't have to wall to wall to deal with, either.

Wall to wall carpeting just seems to defy the broom. Little bits of straw get stuck in the fibers and you have to go back over it on your hands and knees to pick the straw out. But then wall to wall was never made to be attacked by anything as crude as a broom.

Did you ever try to borrow a vacuum cleaner? Let me tell you, women guard that convenience with their lives. I could not get one of my lady friends to let her cleaning machine out of her sight, even for an hour or two.

Vacuum cleaners are like makeup mirrors to all of the women I know. They are things you just don't get along without.

I'm getting rather desperate at this point. I have put my broken down old cleaner in the shop and am looking high and low for another.

When I get the old one fixed and another in reserve, I will never have to do without that miracle of modern man again.

In the meantime, I will have to continue to fight dirt in the way my foremothers did. But I am sinking fast. The way of the broom just is NOT working out.

Oh, spare the modern woman the inconvenience of doing without her convenience.

GC woman wins top iris award

The garden at the home of Mrs. Gloria L. Vinton, 3248 Wayne Ave., is a colorful array of 500 varieties of iris, a successful hobby that has brought her grower wide recognition throughout Illinois and Missouri.

Last week, Mrs. Vinton won "Queen of the Show" honors at the Southern Illinois Iris Show at St. Clair Square in Fairview Heights. Her entry, "Decollette," a specie of iris in raspberry shades on a white and speckled plicate background, won the American Iris Society's purple rosette for "best specimen in show," the Southern Illinois Iris Society trophy and a cash award.

She also achieved the AIS purple rosette and special award for horticulture for her entry, "New Moon," which attained first runner-up honors.

The American Iris Society

bestowed its silver medal and sweepstakes award upon Mrs. Vinton for achieving the most blue ribbons in the show.

She also received a cash award in this phase of competition. The Granite City woman is on the Board of Counselors for Region 9, State of Illinois Iris Society, and a member of the Greater St. Louis Iris Society. She won awards at shows sponsored by both groups this spring.

Mrs. Vinton also belongs to and is active in the Northern Illinois Iris Society, Median Iris Society, Japanese Iris Society, the American Hemerocallis Society and the Greater St. Louis Hemerocallis Society.

Persons interested in joining the Iris or Hemerocallis societies may contact Mrs. Vinton for information at 452-5592. "Visitors are always welcome to come and see the garden during blooming season," Mrs. Vinton added.

Concert by SIUE band

John Phillip Sousa's "The Liberty Bell March" opened last night's University Band concert, followed by Grundman's "Fantasy on American Sailing Songs," William Peters, Edwardsville, conducted the band. After presentation of Williams' "Folk Song Suite," the band performed Grieg's "Vorspiel" from the opera, "Sigurd Jostalf." James

Bovinette was the featured trumpet soloist during performance of Hansen's "Valdres."

Also included on the program were works by Rachmaninoff, Lecocq, Bizet, Tucci and Ward. Students performing in the University Band include Granite City James Christopher Vaughn, percussionist.

Three named to SIUE dental school posts

Three members of the faculty of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Dental Medicine have been appointed to administrative positions with the school, according to Dr. Henry M. Cherrick, dean. The appointments are subject to ratification by the SIUE Board of Trustees.

Dr. Philip M. Hoag, formerly chairman of the department of periodontics and later chairman of the department of surgical specialties, has been named executive associate dean. He has been a member of the faculty since 1971. He received his doctor of dental surgery degree from Northwestern Dental School and Certificate in Periodontics from Tufts School of Dental Medicine.

Dr. J. B. Whitten, formerly chairman of the department of diagnostic specialties, has been appointed assistant dean for academic affairs, a part-time responsibility in addition to his assignment as a professor of pathology in the department of pathology. A member of the faculty since 1970, he received his doctor of dental surgery degree at the University of Kansas City and a master of dental surgery degree at Indiana University.

Also assuming a part-time role in addition to his academic responsibilities as an associate professor of radiology in the department of diagnostic specialties is Dr. Gary L. Conover, who has been named assistant dean for student affairs. Dr. Conover, who joined the faculty in 1973, earned a doctor of dental surgery degree at Temple University.

Named to the chairmanship of the department of diagnostic specialties is Dr. Ordie H. King, who has been a professor of pathology with the School since 1974. He received a doctor of dental surgery degree from the University of Tennessee College of Dentistry and a doctorate in microbiology at the University of Tennessee.

McKinley farewell attracts former students

MEMORIES of 72 years of history and education at McKinley School were brought back during the school's final open house Thursday afternoon. McKinley and two other elementary schools will be closed permanently at the end of the school year.

Prather, Coolidge free summer school

Free summer school classes which will begin next week are still open for enrollment at Coolidge and Prather Junior High Schools. Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis, announced today that additional students may still enroll at both schools. These classes, which will run for seven weeks — from June 29 through July 13 — are funded by the federal government and involve no cost to the student or the school district.

Remedial reading classes are offered at Coolidge for students enrolled at that school last year or for sixth grade students who will attend Coolidge in September. Classes are one and a half hours, from 8:30 to 10 and from 10:15 to 11:45 a.m. Parents interested in enrolling their children may contact the principal, Mike Sikora, at the school by calling 877-1512.

Remedial reading and mathematics are offered at Prather for students enrolled at Prather last year or for sixth graders who will attend that school in September. Classes are one and a half hours, from 8:30 to 10 and from 10:15 to 11:45 a.m. Interested parents may contact the principal, Calvin Bartels, at the school by calling 876-8656.

The classes do not carry any credit and are intended only to help students improve basic skills.

Both programs have been offered in previous years and have been well attended. No transportation is provided. Any additional questions are being answered by Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent, at the Board of Education Office, 876-6000. Rea is responsible for federally-funded programs in the Granite City School District.

A student taking only reading or mathematics attends for only one of the 90-minute sessions daily. Those studying both mathematics and reading are present from 8:30 to 11:45 each morning.

Debra Sutt, Kim Williams win awards

Miss Debra Sutt, a graduating senior of Madison High School, won the FSA award at the Madison High School Future Secretaries Association banquet held last week, at Ralph & Charlie's restaurant in Madison.

In presenting the award from the sponsoring unit, the Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association, Mrs. Charles Vunovic, FSA chairman, said that since the chartering of the Madison FSA chapter in December 1971, the group has grown each year to become a more acknowledged and professional organization in the community.

Principal Dan Kostencki told the girls that while high school days may have been mostly fun and games, they should be aware that the days spent in the working world are to be taken more seriously in order to succeed, but could also be fun.

Special recognition was paid by faculty advisor Lee Ashby to his co-sponsor, Mrs. Beverly Imming, who presented the Junior FSA Award to Kim Williams. Other award winners were Tammy Lynn, Jean Sardigal, Sandy Woodson, Brenda Walker, Lorna Edwards, Gerry Reed, Dianne Sak and Pamela Barefield.

Preceding the banquet, senior girls who had spent the day in the offices of First National Bank in St. Louis reported on the activities of their day. Those giving reports included Pamela Sharon DeLoach, Cheryl Finch, Martha Foresee, Tammy Lynn, Jean Sardigal, Debbie Sutt and Annette Walker.

Other members of the sponsoring NSA unit who attended the banquet were President Joyce Savich, Gail Foley and Twila Edmonds. New officers will be elected soon to guide the chapter through the next school year.

Lynns join senior group

It was announced at the monthly potluck of the Anchorage Senior Center last week that two new members, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynn, have joined the group.

Seventy-five members were present, along with guests Henry Schwartz and Steve Johnson from the management office of the Chicago area HUD, and David Morgan.

The report on the sick was given by Mrs. Georgia Butler, president. She announced that the Rev. Roy Sekora, and Mrs. Katherine Schepars are in the hospital, and that Mrs. Alicia Seiple is in a convalescent home on State St.

A report was made on the death of Lillian Chepley, the niece of Ida Ohms. Birthdays, flowers from Willis Florists were given to Blanche Schroder.

The next business and birthday meeting will be June 6.

No GC speeding will be permitted

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler has ordered Granite City police to initiate strong enforcement of speed limits in the city, to help the governor's fuel-savings program.

Schuler issued a statement Saturday, which said, "At the request of Governor Jim Thompson, I have ordered the Granite City police to strictly enforce all speed limits within the jurisdiction of the city.

"Unless action is taken at once, Illinois will be faced with the same fuel shortages that are now taking place in other states, California for example," Schuler's statement said.

Earl Avery, 69, dies

Earl W. Avery, 69, of 1940 Spruce St., died at 5 a.m. Friday at John Cochran Veterans' Hospital, St. Louis, where he had been a patient four weeks.

Mr. Avery was born in Waterloo, Iowa, and resided here 25 years. He was retired from the U.S. Army where he served 22 years, including service in World War II. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Mary Avery; a brother, Frank Avery of Waterloo, Ia., and two sisters, Mrs. Iona Lee of Littleton, Colo., and Miss Ruth Avery of Waterloo, Ia. Funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

The black 1977 Ford pickup truck of Mike Watkins, 2643 Edwards St., was stolen from the rear yard of his home between 2 a.m. and 1:10 p.m. Saturday. The truck has rainbow stripes on the sides and extra large tires.

Wins two U of I awards

Constance Corzilus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. (Nona) Corzilus, 2100 Lindell Blvd., has been awarded the Academy of American Poets prize of $100, the only nationally recognized award given at the University of Illinois where Miss Corzilus is a student.

In addition, Miss Corzilus won first prize of $100 in the Leah Y. Trelase short fiction competition for her story, "Someone Older." This is the first time in the history of the competitions that the same person has won both awards.

Last year, Miss Corzilus won second prize in the fiction competition. The writing competition is open to all undergraduates at the University of Illinois and is sponsored by the English department.

She is completing her third year at the University of Illinois, and is majoring in English and rhetoric. She is part of the university's honor program and is also a James scholar. She is active at the McKinley

"Schools That Have Done A Responsible Job of Evaluating..."

OWEN HUMPHREY CURRICULUM DIRECTOR

American schools tried a number of new things — new curriculum content and new approaches to the teaching-learning process — during the two decades from 1950 to 1970. It is fair to say that not all new ideas were the choices of educators. With the advent of Sputnik and public fear of an American lag in scientific technology, pressure was brought to bear upon schools to produce a new science, a new math, and eventually a new social studies and a new English, most of which now have fallen into disrepute. Educators, however, even in the face of external pressure to adopt new programs, still had the irrefragable responsibility for testing programs gingerly and evaluating them in terms of ultimate benefit to students. Programs are neither good nor bad by virtue of age. Careful sorting in terms of results should determine what to retain and what to replace.

Since 1970, inflation, spiraling costs, and the parallel increase in taxes which support the public education enterprise, coupled with demands for a more meaningful high school diploma, have triggered a "back-to-the-basics" movement across the nation. Schools that have done a responsible job of evaluating, sorting, discarding and adopting curriculum content and methods will not need a "return" to that which has never been abandoned. They do, however, need to adopt a "forward-with-the-basics" slogan, to insure that every student leaves school with the fundamental learnings needed by a contributing member of society.

Traditionally, secondary schools have done a creditable job of preparing their graduates for college. Until a few short years ago, the leading power of most high schools was largely confined to college-bound students, with the result that large numbers of students dropped out. In fact, at the turn of the century only six percent of youth finished high school, compared with 80 percent today. About half of today's high school graduates go on to further education.

But schools must do more than just enroll large numbers of students. Only must students be equipped with the fundamental skills which are the tools of more advanced learning. If a student has in order to participate meaningfully in today's complex society, they should have a perspective that is provided by sound historical knowledge, an acquaintance with other cultures of the world, some knowledge and understanding of science, an appreciation of the role of the arts in both the history of man and in contemporary life, and a knowledge of self and helpful living practices.

While the curriculum of the elementary school is overwhelmingly tied to reading, writing, and arithmetic, secondary schools can scarcely hope to retain students until graduation if they are confined to a 3 R's diet. This, of course, is not to say that these fundamental skills should not be further developed at the high school level. In order to function as a competent citizen, constant application and continual refinement of the skills acquired earlier are necessary, for it is upon this firm foundation that a good basic education, as described above, rests.

A MUSICAL NOTE...

Music is an important part in the lives of many students in the Granite City School District. These students are involved in the performance of music. Performing in a band, chorus or orchestra requires a great deal of self-discipline to work together in order to produce something exciting and beautiful.

These organizations also help develop the mental capacities of its members and increase the aesthetic awareness of each student. Comradeship and a sense of "belonging" is evident in every musical group. Through their participation in these groups students also acquire a sense of responsibility to themselves, their families, their school and their community. This is shown by their performances at parades, picnics, athletic events, programs and music contests.

In addition to practicing or performing with their groups, music lessons are given to these interested students. Music reading is emphasized in Granite City because it is the "tool" which helps each student gain independence as he creates or performs.

CAREER AND VOCATIONAL PLACEMENT

We now have a part-time placement service for students and full-time placement service for graduates.

Employment counseling is provided in various classes as well as lunch-study meetings with students.

If you, as a parent and resident of our community, have knowledge of job openings or persons to contact for employment information, please contact the Placement Office.

If your son or daughter could use assistance with an application, interview, or other job information, please have them contact the Placement Office at South High School - Phone 877-1512, station 68.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

"CO-OP" THE FIRST WORD IN OFF-CAMPUS EDUCATION

Off-Campus Education is a state approved work-training program providing students, sixteen years or older, with entry level skills necessary to gain employment upon graduation. It includes cooperative education in which an employer in business or industry provides a training station for the student-leader to develop skills necessary for an occupation. It also includes extended classroom training in health occupations and cosmetology.

Students are employed in jobs during the school day. A student's time is devoted to required courses for graduation and a study of related and technical information for his or her job. A teacher-coordinator serves as liaison between employer and the school and a training plan is worked out between the employer and teacher-coordinator.

Areas of training include: cosmetology, health occupations, agricultural occupations, distributive education, industrial occupations, personal and public services and office occupations.

Benefits to Employers

There is prior screening of applicants, school discipline prevails while student is on the job, part-time employees are provided, a source of training for future skilled full-time employees is provided, provides a service to the community, school and student by helping to train skilled responsible citizens, and participate in curriculum development.

Benefits to students

Students earn and learn, school credit is given for training on the job, work habits and attitudes for maturity are developed, help is provided in career choices and students are many times gaining initial work experience.

Cooperation

For three hours a day, the public school setting for approximately sixty high school juniors and seniors shifts from North and South High Schools to a different type of school setting. Capri Beauty Academy and Granite City School of Beauty Fashion is the new setting. Learning to be a beautician is the purpose. This is a part of the high school curriculum called Off-Campus Education and more specifically extended classroom training.

According to the state of Illinois, any extended classroom program must:

1. Provide a training plan for each student.
2. Provide planned and rotated job experiences during the week.
3. Insure that all students participate in job experiences in the same blocks of time with a qualified teacher available to supervise in the extended campus facility during that time frame.
4. Provide a teacher who plans, supervises, and evaluates students lab experience.

Granite City students can participate in this program over a two year period. Students accumulate 1,500 hours training, school credit which meets the state requirement allowing them to qualify to take the state exam to become a licensed beautician. Students participate during the junior and senior year as well as the summer between the junior and senior year. All tuition fees are paid by the school district through a contractual arrangement with the two beauty schools.

Shop owners Peggy Thompson of Capri and Carl and Marcella Tucker of Granite City School of Beauty have been well satisfied with the program and find working with high school students refreshing and challenging. Each shop owner has employed some former students as instructors in their schools. Laura Oyer Kessler, Karen O'Brien and Debbie Scheibel at Capri.

Julie Aking is employed at Granite City School of Beauty. Mrs. Aking also serves on the Off-Campus Advisory Commission and is the immediate past chairperson of the committee.

Mrs. Thompson added, "The orientation and screening process has improved greatly which makes for added interest on the part of students who came down here."

Health Occupations

Allied health occupations make up the rest of the extended classroom program. St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Granite City has offered medical office assistants, nurse aide, unit clerk, and operating room technician programs. Students spend a portion of their time in classroom situations concentrating on theory and procedures and a portion of their time rotating to different locations for clinical experience. Dr. Robert Lay was one of the initiators of the idea because he believed local people could be trained for these positions. Miss Virginia Foster is the health occupations coordinator for the Granite City Public Schools. Miss Foster has also helped develop curriculum for the health occupations program.

Hospital staff also assist in the training of these students. Shirley Wendel, Director of the Operating Room, helps in preparations for students training these and Gail Frazer serves as instructor for students learning to be unit clerks.

St. Elizabeth's has worked with Granite City since 1971 and in the spring of 1979, Oliver C. Anderson will begin an association with the Granite City Public Schools to training additional Unit Clerks. The purpose of these programs is to prepare students with a valuable skill which the student can then use in the job market.

As with each vocational program, Off-Campus Education has a citizens advisory committee working with it. These committees are made up of business persons, former students, and interested citizens. Don Wolf of Wolf Manufacturing is currently serving as the advisory committee chairperson. This is Wolf's third year on the committee and fifth year of working with the high school off-campus program.

Personal and Public Service Programs
The Cooperative Education program is offered at both GCHS-North and GCHS-South. This program is designed to give high school students experience in a chosen vocation or an opportunity for career exploration.

The Personal and Public Service Area covers a wide variety of service occupations, the largest being Food Service. There are approximately 20 Restaurants and Fast Food Services at this time in Granite City and the St. Louis Metropolitan area that employ "Co-op" students.

Other service occupations include: personal services as nurses aides, dental assistants, day care aides and recreational aides.

The students involved in the program have had various lead up and introductory courses to give them background for their work experience. These students also take a related course with their work experience. The course is offered to help students discuss problems and situations that may arise on the job.

The students are under the supervision of a qualified coordinator. The coordinators are Mrs. Barbara Coleman-GCHS-South and Mrs. Janet Denney-GCHS-North. The coordinators' responsibility is to converse with employers, and discuss student progress and/or problems that students are having on the job.

Students find this program a valuable training experience for the students. Many of these employers keep their co-op students after high school graduation as full time employees. Paid co-op students have moved up in the same company to higher positions or moved on to other related occupational training, their co-op work experience as reference. Whether a student moved up or not of a job, they have had a valuable work experience in an educational setting. By having work experience in an educational system, the job and what it entails becomes more meaningful for the students.

SCIENCE
The mathematics offerings at the secondary level provide a complete program. Attempts have been made to have a course available for each student which serves his needs based on his ability, background, and grade level.

A student may begin with algebra in grade eight and proceed through the traditional college preparatory courses until he has completed two semesters of calculus. Or, he may begin his algebra in grade nine and have a college prep course available each semester until graduation. It is possible to complete the two calculus by having two math courses for each of two semesters still complete the two calculus by two years.

A student may elect to begin his high school math with general math in grade nine. Other non-college bound courses then available to him are vocational mathematics, Intermediate Math I and II (between general math and algebra), and a new semester course called Reflexive Math I. At any time it seems advisable students may switch from this program to the college prep program.

A two semester sequence of half hour honors courses in which selected topics of special interest not found in the regular classes are presented is available to superior students. Finally, in the calculator course a student may learn to use desk and hand held calculators to perform simple arithmetic operations and proceed, if he wishes, to writing sophisticated programs.

"TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS"
Students electing business courses in the high schools of Illinois are outnumbered only by those students taking the required courses in English and social studies. A major purpose of business education is to provide the knowledge every person needs to handle his financial affairs and to perform the duties of a good citizen. Of major importance, however, is the fact that professional, office, and sales workers have increased faster than any other occupation during the past decade and a half.

Through these efforts the district serves a broad range of individual differences in students' abilities, learning rates, and experience backgrounds to develop independent reading power.

READING
Success in school, in continuing education, and in daily living is contingent upon learning and applying the skills required to read with understanding.

The word itself will be a condition of survival in given circumstances: following traffic signs, reading dosage directions on medicines, reading instructions for the operation of mechanical equipment, etc.

Emphasis upon reading in the curriculum in the schools of District No. 9 can be identified in a number of aspects of the total educational program, ranging from the formal use of a basal program common to all elementary schools to the working philosophy that "every teacher is a reading teacher," regardless of level.

Assigned subject matter taught. Lending additional important emphasis to instructional needs in reading are elementary learning centers, resource teachers, reading labs, the Title I program, objective-referenced and non-referenced tests, and programs designed to diagnose reading deficiencies and prescribe individualized instruction.

Secondary Reading Skills and literature courses, and the district's Independent Reading Program through these efforts the district serves a broad range of individual differences in students' abilities, learning rates, and experience backgrounds to develop independent reading power.

ENGLISH
The English Department offers approximately twenty courses which take into consideration the abilities and preferences of students. Those enrolled in the general and college preparatory curriculums take seven semesters of English and one of Oral Communication. Composition and literature courses, meeting a wide range of interests as well as needs, are designed to provide numerous writing experiences and offer opportunity to improve communication skills in writing and speaking.

UNIT NO. 9 HAS BEEN CAUTIOUS. THAT IS, WE HAVE MADE CERTAIN TO PROVIDE THE "3 R's" TO OUR STUDENTS... YOUR CHILDREN. UNIT NO. 9 PRIDES ITSELF ON PROVIDING A SOLID BACKGROUND PLUS CULTURAL AND PHYSICAL TRAINING TO KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

The Cooperative Education program is offered at both GCHS-North and GCHS-South. This program is designed to give high school students experience in a chosen vocation or an opportunity for career exploration.

The Personal and Public Service Area covers a wide variety of service occupations, the largest being Food Service. There are approximately 20 Restaurants and Fast Food Services at this time in Granite City and the St. Louis Metropolitan area that employ "Co-op" students.

Other service occupations include: personal services as nurses aides, dental assistants, day care aides and recreational aides.

Students find this program a valuable training experience for the students. Many of these employers keep their co-op students after high school graduation as full time employees. Paid co-op students have moved up in the same company to higher positions or moved on to other related occupational training, their co-op work experience as reference. Whether a student moved up or not of a job, they have had a valuable work experience in an educational setting. By having work experience in an educational system, the job and what it entails becomes more meaningful for the students.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION
Distributive Education is a cooperative program in vocational education where the local businesses and schools cooperate in training high school students in occupational skills. This is the first year for our district to offer this program. Andrea Brodbeck is the coordinator at South, and Jeff Sparks is the coordinator at North.

Distributive Education is a vocational education program that combines work and study for students interested in merchandising, marketing, management, and general occupations. The students are in school four hours each day and work four hours, either in the morning or afternoon. They take a class related to their work experience taught by their coordinator and three other classes. The D.E. student is paid for the hours he works and his experience serves as a laboratory in which he can practice the skills he learns in the classroom. This helps them develop in both the practical and academic areas.

The general objectives of this program are:

1. To prepare certain high school students vocationally for initial marketing jobs in areas such as sales, merchandising, clerical, transportation, financing, stock control, wholesaling, and retailing.
2. To aid the student-leader in acquiring general skills and knowledge applicable to all distributive occupations and also in acquiring specialized skills and knowledge applicable to the training station where he is placed. This background prepares the student-leader for advancement on the job.
3. To provide a technical background for some college-bound students who plan to study business and marketing in college.

To make certain contributions of general education to the high school students who participate in this program.

It is recommended that students take the retailing course prior to enrolling in the D.E. program. Other business courses may be helpful to the students at their work stations.

Industrial Occupations
The area that Al Turner, of South, and Jim Reid, of North, is concerned with is Industrial Occupations. This area is for Vocational students, basically seniors, who have received the first part of their vocational training in the formal classroom situation. The capstone of their vocational training is spent in the cooperative education program in a real work situation under the supervision of a qualified coordinator.

The real work situation is intended to offer challenging and varied experiences that can be found in the formal classroom. The student who graduates with a year of work experience in real work experience has a step ahead of those who graduate with no work experience. Some of these students will step right into a job as an extension of their present co-op jobs upon graduation.

North and South currently have a variety of work situations represented, examples of these would be: Sheet Metal Worker Trainee, Heavy Equipment Parts Trainee, Maintenance Trainee, Mechanics Helper Trainee, Construction Work Trainee, Electrical Trainee, Service Station Attendant Trainee, Electrical Assembly Trainee, Welder Trainee, and Gunsmith Program Trainee.

In conclusion, it would appear that many of these students are gaining a feeling of success, accomplishment, self-esteem, and responsibility that could only be gained through a combination of the formal classroom training and the real work experience offered by the cooperative program. The whole program can be attained only through the cooperation of business and industry that furnishes the many valuable work stations.

MATH
The mathematics offerings at the secondary level provide a complete program. Attempts have been made to have a course available for each student which serves his needs based on his ability, background, and grade level.

Physical exams for new city employees proposed

Ordinances to require all new employees hired by Granite City to pass a physical examination and to use a city-appointed doctor for on-job injuries may be considered by the Granite City Council in the near future, but are expected to have some opposition.

At the recommendation of the city's safety manager, the requests for the ordinances were presented to the council Tuesday night and the council referred them to the safety committee for study and a recommendation.

Street Superintendent Lionel Portell said the city currently sends injured employees to one of two doctors, or they have the option of going to their family doctors. Dick Portell, safety manager for the city, said he believes the city could save money by contracting with one doctor for treatment of on-job injuries.

Several aldermen said they did not feel such a requirement would be legal and asked the committee to check with someone from the city's legal staff.

The council also has agreed to study an ordinance which would avoid voting on ordinances they have not had time to study in advance.

First Ward Alderman Charles Douglas asked for a requirement that all ordinances be submitted to the ordinance committee one week before they are presented to the council, with the exception of emergency ordinances.

Each ordinance should be marked with the name of the official or alderman who asked for it to be written, according to Douglas.

Ordinance committee then should study each prior to the council meeting and should give a recommendation when presenting it, he said.

Ordinances submitted for emergency purposes less than a week before the council meeting should have the reasons for the emergency stated by the chairman of the ordinance committee, Douglas suggested.

He also asked that the practice of suspending rules so ordinances can be passed on first reading be restricted to emergencies.

"As I have said before, we (aldermen) come in here and act on ordinances we have never seen before they are read on this council floor. Then we act on them that meeting and make them law. I believe we need more time to consider these ordinances and this is why I am requesting this ordinance," Douglas stated.

Charge 2 in school burglary

Two young men were charged Wednesday with a burglary at Marshall School, 2700 Marshall Ave., in which an electric meat slicer, a cash can and a quantity of food was stolen.

Witnesses told police at 2:45 a.m. Wednesday that two young men were seen carrying something heavy on Faith Avenue near Marshall Avenue and when a squad car arrived, one dropped a meat cutter and they fled on foot.

Officers chased them to behind 2908 Buxton Ave., where the suspects ran inside the house. Police entered behind them and arrested two. A third young man was found in a bed in the basement, but was taken into custody because he was breathing heavily and was perspiring, indicating he had not been sleeping when police arrived.

The meat cutter was found behind 2908 Buxton Ave., officers said. Charged with burglary are Robert D. Clark, 20, and Leland R. Clark, 18, both of 2908 Buxton Ave. The third young man was released without being charged. Bond has been set at $2,500 in cash each for the two who are charged and they were taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville at 4:30 a.m. today.

Police checked the school and found plexiglass had been removed from a window to gain entry. Food had been moved inside the building and some milk had been spilled on the floor. The door to the nurse's office had been forced open, but nothing was believed taken from that room.

An inventory showed that 30 pounds of butter, 30 pounds of cheese, 20 pounds of hamburger meat, 25 pounds of turkey rolls, five packages of hamburger buns, three loaves of bread, a 20-gallon trash container and the electric meat slicer had been taken. Some of the loot has been recovered, police said.

Nursing workshop at SIUE

The School of Nursing at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold a workshop on problem solving for the health professional June 4-5.

Sponsored by the Educator Training Center in California and SIUE's Continuing Education program in the School of Nursing, the two-day workshop will be held in the University Center in the area formerly occupied by the School of Business from until 10 p.m. on June 4 and from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. on June 5.

Registration for the two-day affair is $45. Instruction will be provided by the Educator Training Center. Deadline for registration is May 28.

Participants will focus on the health worker as decision-maker, reality therapy as a decision-making model, helping others make decisions, group decision-making, and action plans for use on the job.

Additional information on this workshop or other workshops offered by the SIUE School of Nursing Continuing Education Program may be obtained by contacting Betty Boyd Walker at (618) 692-3956.

Trojans roar to District crown

RED BUD — The Madison Trojans must have made good use of their time off. Madison High School's boys' track team, which had nearly two weeks off to prepare, roared to the championship of the Red Bud Class A (small school) District Track Meet here Saturday. The Trojans finished with 72 points to easily out-distance Anna-Jonesboro which finished with 37.

Meanwhile, at the Belleville East Class AA District Friday, Granite City South's Dave Houston won the mile run to qualify for the state meet. He'll be joined by North's Aaron Hickam who was second in the 880. Madison qualified seven individuals and all four relays teams for next weekend's state track meet at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston.

Earnest Davenport was a double-winner, taking both the 220 and 440-yard dashes. Marcus White and James Heard finished one-two in the 100-yard dash to also qualify for the state meet.

But these weren't the only Trojans to qualify. Sylvester Collins did by finishing second in the triple jump. Troy Butler did it by placing second in the long jump and Mike Ellis did by getting a second in the 330 yard low hurdles.

But the main strength of the Trojans — as has been the case all season — were the relay teams. The Madison 440 yard relay team won its event with a time of 2:1.1 seconds, well ahead of Anna-Jonesboro's time of 44.8. The members of the 440 yard relay team are Heard, Collins, Davenport and White.

The 880 yard relay was won by Madison in 1:31.6. Members are Butler, Collins, Heard and White. Anna-Jonesboro was second in 1:34.3.

Madison's Ellis, Heard, Carlyn Jackson and White won the mile relay by two seconds over Freeburg in a time of 3:30.2.

The Trojan two mile relay completed the sweep by winning in a time of 8:11.9. Members of the squad are Raymond Price, Tony Mayes, Alvin Bankhead and Cecil Cross. Freeburg was second in 8:16.8.

Madison finishers who failed to qualify for the state meet were Marcus Haynes third in the third in the 220 (2:3.6), Jackson third in the 440 (51.6), Mayes third in the 880 (2:30.4), Ellis third (1:5.5) in the 120 yard high hurdles, Collins fifth in the 330 yard low hurdles and Dixon fifth in the long jump (19-5 1/4).

EAST DISTRICT

The team story was the same as usual — East St. Louis. The Flyers beat out rival East St. Louis Lincoln for the title 94-76. Alton was third with 29 points.

Granite City South finished in fourth place as a team with 18 points. Belleville East was fifth with 16, followed by West with 14.

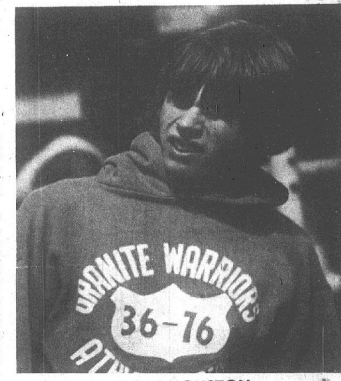

Collinsville had 12, Granite City North 7, Wood River 6, Edwardsville 5, Jerseyville 4, Bethalto and O'Fallon 3 each, Cahokia 1 and Alhaff, Roxana, Mascoutah and Highland 0.

But the big story for Granite Cityans was the fact that Granite City South and North both qualified one athlete for the state meet. South's distance-running standout, Dave Houston, won the mile run in a time of 4:28.4 to qualify. He edged Arthur Brooks of East St.

Louis Lincoln by nearly a full second.

North's Aaron Hickam qualified for the state meet by finishing a strong second in the 880 yard run. He was edged by Leonard White of Lincoln by only three-tenths of a second.

Granite City finishers who failed to qualify for the state meet were: Glen Edwards of North fifth in the 880 (2:00.0); South's Dave Taylor third in the mile run (4:30.7); North's mile relay team fourth (3:28.2); South's two mile relay team (3:28.2); Steve Adams of South fourth in the pole vault (12.9); and South's Mike Konzen fourth in the shot put (51-5 1/2) and discus (145-7).

Class AA stars nip Class A

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor of the Press-Record

BELLEVILLE — It may have only been an all-star contest but a familiar bug-a-boo came back to the Class A basketball all-stars here Saturday night.

That bug-a-boo was a foul. Two of the small school class stars fouled out in the second half, leaving the way open for the Class AA schools to edge away with a 101-96 victory in the third annual WIBV Class AA-AA All-Star basketball game played at Belleville East Gymnasium.

Former Nashville standout, 6-8 John Jankowski, and St. Paul-Highland star, Dennis Luber each exited the game in the latter stages of the second half with five fouls.

Up to that point, the game had been close, if not even nip-and-tuck. The Class A stars held the lead for much of the first half, before falling behind anywhere from 10 to two points the rest of the way.

One of the main spark-plugs for the large schools squad was an unlikely hero, Nilsson of Edwardsville. The 6-3 hotshot weaved his way in and out of the Class A front line for the go-ahead basket in the game after the Class A stars had reclaimed the lead for the first time since the first half.

"I don't really know what happened," said the shy Nilsson afterwards. "I guess I was just going on instinct out there at that point."

Nilsson, who has not yet signed to play college basketball anywhere, said, "I'm happy I did well tonight. I've been looking forward to this night for a long time."

As much as Nilsson's efforts aided the Class AA stars, it was the awesome presence of Dwight "Jelly" Jones in the lineup that proved to be too much for the smaller school players. The 6-8 Jones wowed the crowd with a 20-point effort. Nilsson was second with 12.

An unlikely emerged on the other side, Venice's Ron Salmond came off the bench for Coach Harry Statham's Class A squad in the first and second halves and lit a fire under a squad seemingly on the verge of knocking under to the likes of Jones and Nilsson.

Salmond scored 11 points.

But more important, he grabbed several critical defensive rebounds and blocked two shots late in the game when the Class A team made its run.

But Salmond and Roger Steig, the former Nashville star, weren't enough to keep it going for the Class A team. With Luber and Jankowski on the bench, the Class AA height was too much for them.

"And I'm sure there were a few here tonight," Kerkemeyer finished the game with 11 points.

Even though the Class AA team had reclaimed its lead late in the game, Coach Bill Franey wasn't content. "I knew they had some fine shooters on their team," he said. "In a game like this, you're not going to be able to rest for even a moment."

And how. St. Paul's Luber dazzled the Class AA squad in the first half with his moves toward the basket. He had 18 points at halftime. But he ended the game with 24 points. "I don't really think we shut him down as much as he just stopped making so many of his shots, said Franey."

But Luber may have been shut down more than Franey cared to mention. Belleville West's Greg Sonnenberg began mauling his way around Luber's defense, which seemed to rattle the 6-5 Rockhurst-bound standout.

"The fouls killed us late," said Statham. "Luber and Jankowski were our biggest men inside, along with Steig and Salmond. Losing them really hurt us."

As he dressed after the game, Kerkemeyer showed a sheepish grin and gave credit to the "twin towers" from Nashville, Steig and Jankowski. "Boy, they were a lot bigger and stronger than I thought they'd be," he said. "They had some muscle."

The best players from Saturday's game will be chosen to represent Illinois this Friday night against a similar squad comprised of Missouri all-stars in an Illinois-Missouri game at the Checkerdome beginning at 8:30 p.m. It will be preceded by a girls Illinois-Missouri all-star game at 7 p.m.

Madison's Eric Stanley played but did not score. Saturday night before the boys all-star game, a girls team coached by Belleville Area College Coach John Dennet defeated a squad coached by McKendree College Coach Ann Lacy 65-42 behind 22 points from Amy Eckhouse of Alton.

Marquette, Shari Ripka of Granite City North scored six points for the losers.

The proceeds from the game will go to a fund for area Olympic hopefuls Craig Virgin of Lebanon and Tom Stock of Belleville.

Even though it was played mainly for fun, there were some players who had something to prove. "Yes, we wanted to beat these guys," said Salmond. "I guess to show the small schools aren't as bad as everybody says."

"I had a good time though," he said. "I was a little surprised their big guys didn't take me to the boards more. I wanted to work inside on them."

Lincoln wins state crown

CHARLESTON — The East St. Louis Lincoln girls track team did it again. The powerful Lincoln Tigresses won their second consecutive state Class AA (large school) championship here Saturday at Eastern Illinois University. Lincoln finished 10 points ahead of second-place East St. Louis Senior, 94-84.

Mahomet-Seymour won the Class A (small school) championship, 42-39 over Kankakee MacNamara.

Madison had one point in the Class A meet. It was gained by star shot-putter Darlene Reed, who had a toss of 38 feet, three inches for eighth place. The toss was Reed's personal best-ever. Lisa Ferry of Greenville won the shot put with a heave of 48 feet, one-half inch.

The Trojanette 880 relay and 880 medley relay teams also went to the state meet, but failed to place.

Freeburg led the area Class A schools with 14 points, good enough for a 14th place finish. Waterloo Senior was 25th with nine points, Columbia 37th with 9 and Red Bud 55th with two.

In the Class AA action, Mascoutah finished 27th with eight points and O'Fallon 57th with two. There were no state entries from Granite City.

Slugfest with Tigers advances Steelers

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

ALTON — This was the kind of game a baseball statistician, one who thrills to computing batting averages, earned run averages and fielding percentages, dreams about.

It was Granite City North's semi-final regional tournament game against Edwardsville, here Saturday.

After over three hours, 22 runs, 28 hits and five errors, North's Steelers outlasted Edwardsville's Tigers for a 12-10 win. The victory advanced North to the championship of the Alton regional, which will be decided here tonight when the Steelers face Alton.

North's coach, Bob Stegemeier, called it the "best hitting performance I've ever seen from two high school teams."

The first inning set the tone for the entire game. It lasted over an hour, and saw North score nine runs in the first half, then watch as the Tigers came back with six of their own.

The Steelers didn't exactly overpower Edwardsville. Although North had four hits in the inning, only two could be described as well-hit. The Tigers contributed three errors to the Steelers' cause and the base runners were everywhere. North sent 13 batters to the plate in the inning.

Then it was Edwardsville's turn. The Tigers had five hits. And the Steelers returned the Tiger's generosity with two errors. Edwardsville scored six times, and had 12 batters go to the plate.

North 901 200 0-12 13 4
E'ville 610 030 0-10 12 5

All this was the result of a tough playing surface and some tense hands. "The ball took some funny bounces," Stegemeier said. "This is tournament time, and you've got to remember these are 16 and 17-year-old kids out there. The pressure is really great."

It certainly wasn't a day for pitchers. Neither starter made it past the first inning. North's starter, Russ Chappel, was gone after two-thirds of an inning. He was replaced by Keith Burton, who went until the third, giving up another run.

Steve Doty, North's ace, came on in the third and allowed the Tiger's three more runs in the fifth.

The Tiger's starting pitcher, Jim Schieble, was around shorter than Chappel. He lasted only a third of an inning, giving way to Tom Hanson, who allowed the Steelers another run. Vince Broderick relieved Hansen in the third and was touched for two Steelers runs in the fourth but blanked North for the remainder of the game.

It was definitely an offensive game. The Steelers'

Dennis Page and Dick Awallt both had two hits apiece. Bob Batoy, Tom Greco, and Mike Robertson all had three hits for North.

Jamie Semaisin, Dennis Wittworth, and Dave Brouse all had two hits apiece for the Tigers. But the real hitting star in the game was Tiger Phil Conreux.

Conreux singled in the first, doubled in the second, doubled again in the fourth, tripled in the fifth, and hit still another double in the seventh.

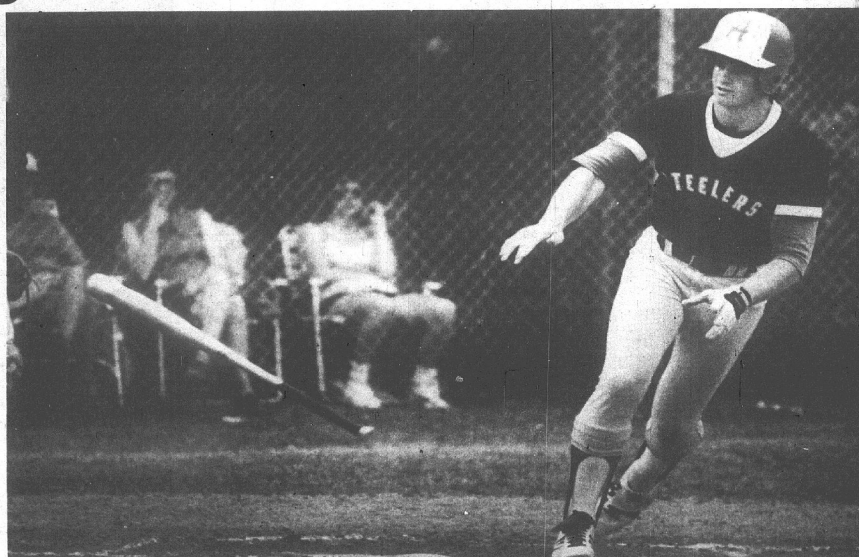

His hit in the seventh came with two out and the bases empty. It kept the Tigers alive in the game.

Wittworth, representing the tying run, followed with a single, and the potential winning run, in the person of designated hitter Bob Manville, came to the plate.

Doty got Manville to ground out to the second baseman to end the game, and Stegemeier breathed a sigh of relief.

"I was sure glad to see Manville come to the plate in the seventh with nobody on," he said.

As it turned out, The difference in the game was the runs the Steelers scored in the third and fourth innings.

"ALTON STEELER?" Granite City North's Bob Ford hurls his bat away and heads for first base after receiving a walk in a nine-run first inning Saturday against Edwardsville in the Alton Class AA Regional. The reason for the Alton batting helmet on Ford's head is the North's helmets were accidentally taken by Jerseyville after the day's first game. Alton came up with the last-minute substitution.

Boat races here

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Evening Kwanis are having their 11th annual "East-West" championship outboard boat races Sunday, May 27. The event at Horseshoe Lake will bring racers from virtually all over the United States and will feature many national and world champions.

Those expected to enter are brothers Dan, Jerry and Tom Kirts of Elkhart, Ind.; Ralph Donald of Marietta, Ga.; Rex Hall of Kansas City, Kan.; Wayne Baldwin of Alice, Tex., who has recently set a "700cc" hydro record of 120.4 mph; and Todd Brinkman of Springfield, Ill., who also has set a new "700cc" runabout record of 94.5 mph.

All proceeds will be used for Kwanis projects such as giving eye glasses to needy students, providing walkers and crutches, school scholarships, donations to Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, etc.

Time for the event will be 1 p.m. Donation is two dollars for adults and one dollar for children. Food and refreshments will be on hand.

Cougars national champs

FAIRFIELD BAY, Ark. — The Southern Illinois University Edwardsville men's tennis team captured its second straight NCAA Division II national championship here yesterday by a large margin.

The SIUE Cougars finished the national tournament with 21 points. San Diego University was a distant second with 15, while Nicholls State (La.) and Hampton Institute tied for third with 10 points.

It was an all-SIUE finals in singles competition. Cougar Arjun Fernando ended teammate Juan Farrow's two-year stranglehold on the national title by beating him 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

In doubles, Fernandez and Farrow teamed up to beat Chris Robinson and Raul Morales of Nicholls State 3-6, 5-4.

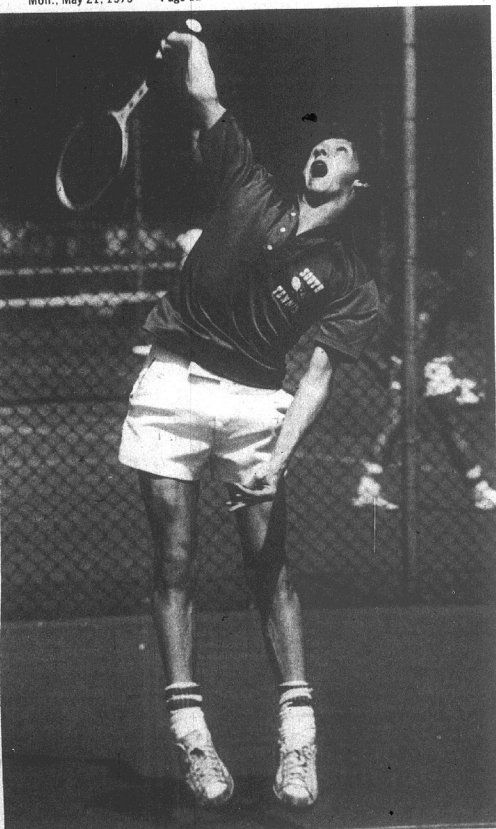

Granite Cityan Bill Rusek was eliminated in the third round by Luis Lan of California State-Los Angeles 6-3, 7-6.

The back to back titles won by SIUE are the first such since California-Irvine did it in 1972 and 1973.

Scott named honorary ref

BLOOMINGTON — Former Granite City High School coach Ira Scott has been named as the honorary referee for this year's IHSA boys' state track meet, to be held May 26 at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston.

Scott served as a coach at Granite City High School in the early 1950's. From Granite City, he went to Naperville High, where he became the first full-time athletic director there in 1955.

DUTCH SCHROEDER of Granite City South serves Friday during action in the South IHSA District tennis meet at Wilson Park. Schroeder didn't advance to state competition, but two of his teammates, Terry Malench and Ed Schmulbach, did.

Ten locals named to select team

GRANITE CITY — Ten Southern Illinois Select Team soccer players have been named to each of two Illinois State Select teams. The announcement was made this morning.

The Illinois State Select teams will travel to Milwaukee this Friday for games Saturday and Sunday in the National Youth Soccer Association-sanctioned Region II Tournament, along with teams representing Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio North, Ohio South, Missouri and Kansas. From that round-robin affair, a team will be chosen to represent the region later this summer at a national select team tournament.

Out of 18 players named to the Under-18 year old select team, 10 are from the Southern Illinois Select team. They are: Jack Burnett, David Fernandez, Dan DeRousse, Randy DeRousse and Jeff Tinsley from Granite City South, Jeff DeMott, Tony Pierce and Bob Batey from GCHS North, Mike Barbeche from Belleville East and Darren Jones from Alton.

On the Under-16 team, 10 of the 16 chosen are from the Southern Illinois squad. They are: Greg White and Rich Daley from South, Eric Maass from North, Robby Mann from Collinsville, Tom Korte from Belleville East, Greg Nasello and Mike Coulter from Alton, Rich Moore, a Granite Cityan who plays his prep soccer at St. Louis University High, and Chris Mackie and Dale Oberier from Edwardsville.

The coach of the entire state select team program is Paul Matik. The head coach of the Under-18 team is Gus Monteros, while John Lewang directs the show for the Under-16 squad. All three are from Chicago.

Champion said, "I don't know how to say it. I think we were a much better team than we realized." Champion said, "I don't think we lived up to our potential."

The Warriors were the victims of five losses in which the outcome was decided by one run and the other three defeats were almost as close. The Warriors were never really trounced all season long.

"We're happy with 20 wins," Champion said. "20 wins sounds pretty good. But if we'd won those five one-run games, we'd have a fantastic season. We lost our last game on a sacrifice fly hit to right by Bob Segemeier."

South hit the ball only two more times and only put two runners on second since the first. They left four runners on base throughout the game.

Jerseyville left five stranded on base, but put two across the plate in the sixth to sense victory. Jack Metcalfe and Mike Crisswell connected on back-to-back base hits to start the Panther drive. Brian Watson hit a RBI single to score Metcalfe, and Crisswell came in on an infield error, 2-1.

The only double-play of the game was turned in by the Warriors and it went 6-4-3 (Kevin Sykes-Segemeier-Thurman) and that was in the second inning with runners on first and third with one out.

"We knew we had to put out," said Champion. "We got three hits and all those were from left handed batters."

South duo advances to state tennis meet

GRANITE CITY — The doubles team of Terry Malench and Ed Schmulbach qualified for next week's state tennis meet in Arlington Heights by finishing second in the Granite City District Tournament held Friday and Saturday.

Alton's Mike Williams and Joe Stumpe defeated Malench and Schmulbach 7-5, 6-3 in the finals of the doubles competition. Both first and second place finishers in district meets advance to state, while the team champion also advances.

Alton won the team competition. The Redbirds finished with 13½ points. Wood River was second with 9. South had 8½, Jerseyville 4, Roxana 3, Bethalto 1, while Granite City North and Alton Marquette failed to score.

The meet was held at the South tennis courts and at Wilson Park. Alton also had the singles champion in Dave Lopez. He beat Bruce Higgins of Wood River 6-2, 6-0 in the championship match.

In third place competition, South's George Sykes and Tom Longos defeated Jay Dugy and Rich Baker of Wood River 6-2, 7-5.

Mark Harris of Alton beat Randy Speckle of Jerseyville 4-6, 6-2, 6-3 in the third place singles match.

HIGHLAND DISTRICT Centralia captured the team title at Highland. The Orphans had 9½ points to edge Greenville which had 7½. Salem was third with 7, followed by Edwardsville with 6. Vandalia had 6, Highland 5, Hillsboro and Triad 0.

EAST DISTRICT Bellevue West edged host East 12½-12 to win the team championship of the district. Cahokia was third with 7½. Althoff had 5, Waterloo 4.

GIBBAULT 1, Marissa and New Athens 0.

MASCOUATAH DISTRICT Powerhouse O'Fallon roared to the team championship at Mascoutah. The Panthers had 13½ points. Lebanon was second with 9, Collinsville and East St. Louis 5 each, Lincoln 3, Madison, Mascoutah and Assumption 1.

Madison's Perry Hill advanced from the opening round with a 6-4, 6-3 victory over John Daniels of Assumption. However, he lost to eventual singles runner-up Jay Leckers of Collinsville 6-0, 6-0 in the quarterfinals.

South until the sixth. In the top of the first, South's hurler Al Yount put the batters down three straight. He did the same in the third and fourth innings.

"It's just bad coaching," said South's head coach, Conrad "Babe" Champion. But, one can only wonder how a team that won 20 and lost only eight (five of those eight by a single run) could be poorly coached.

The game belonged to South until the sixth. In the top of the first, South's hurler Al Yount put the batters down three straight. He did the same in the third and fourth innings.

GRANITE CITY — Granite City South lost 2-1 to the Jerseyville Panthers in the first round of the Alton Class AA Regional Tournament at South Thursday afternoon.

Frustration key word in '79 Granite South season

By KEVIN ALLEN of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Take a 20-8 season record into the first round of regional baseball tournament. Consider that the team is ranked number one in the tournament, and that the opponents are unranked with a season record below .500.

And then try to realize that the final score was 1-1 in favor of those sub-.500 foes.

The only double-play of the game was turned in by the Warriors and it went 6-4-3 (Kevin Sykes-Segemeier-Thurman) and that was in the second inning with runners on first and third with one out.

"We knew we had to put out," said Champion. "We got three hits and all those were from left handed batters."

South until the sixth. In the top of the first, South's hurler Al Yount put the batters down three straight. He did the same in the third and fourth innings.

The Warriors scored their only run in their half of the first inning. Blake "Hondo" Ambuehl walked and stole second to lead the inning off. Jim Thurman singled to left field to advance Ambuehl to third. The Warriors scored on a sacrifice fly hit to right by Bob Segemeier. South hit the ball only two more times and only put two runners on second since the first. They left four runners on base throughout the game.

'Outlaws' to appear here

GRANITE CITY — The "World of Outlaws" — The coming to Granite City's Tri-City Speedway this Wednesday.

The "Outlaws" are a group of former USAC drivers who travel all over the country, racing against each other as well as local drivers.

According to a promoter for the event it gives the local racing fans more reason to come out an become interested in the races.

Current WoO points leader Ron Shuman of Mesa, Arizona will head the field at Tri-City Speedway. The two promoters for the local event are Dennis Scott and Tom Blair of Bedford, Ind. They will be on hand, as well as will WoO race organizer Ted Johnson of Wichita Falls,

 Texas and Tri-City Track Promoter Gil Rimmel.

There will be a 40-lap feature race with a purse of $2,000 for the winner.
 There will also be heat and a "B" Feature.

The pit gate will open at 5 p.m. Wednesday at Tri-City with the first race set to begin at 7:30.
 Also racing for WoO
 Wednesday will be Steve Kinser last year's overall point champion.

cars participated in the evening's program.
 Roy Tobias of Elsbey, Mo., made a clean sweep by winning his heat and the 15-lap feature.

The first heat was taken by Tobias, followed by Dan Turney of Bowling Green, Mo., and Don Holt of Vandalia, Mo. In the second sportsman heat, Guy Pearson of St. Peters, Mo., was the winner and was followed by Don Holt and Roy Tobias.

The 15-lap feature event was a wild one indeed. A flag on lap eight and a couple of yellow flags put several cars out enabling only five

Bert Cheatham of Glenoe, Mo., spun in the infield of the half mile and a cloud of dust covered most of the number demolishing his car.

The two cars that were involved in the wreck were,
 Paul Humphrey Sr. of Dupo, Ill., and Mike Perlow of Troy, Mo. At the finish, Tobias with his first win of the year, was followed by Rob Jones of Creve Coeur,

Volunteers will help dying persons and their families

By ROSEMARIE LINDNER

Are citizens aware that there is a small group of people, some from their own town, working diligently to form a hospice to serve the people of Madison County?

Are they aware of what a hospice is?

We all know about the facts of life, but few of us know or can expect the facts of death. And when a terminal illness strikes a member of our family, few of us know how to deal with those last few months of life. The purpose of a hospice is to help the terminally ill live as fully as possible and carry on an alert, pain-free existence, with the unique feature that the patient is able to remain at home in comfortable surroundings.

The help of those he loves is the primary care unit, aided by an interdisciplinary team including the physician, nurses, social worker, clergy, volunteers and, as needed, other health care professionals, regardless of the person's ability to pay for such care.

These services are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

What people need most when they are dying is relief from the distressing symptoms of their illness, the security of a caring environment, sustained by expert care, and the assurance that they and their families won't be abandoned.

The family members are not forgotten after death occurs. The bereavement follow-up services are maintained for at least a year.

All are dependent on one another. Therefore, it is crucial, in the last few months of life, to help develop a caring community that can provide comprehensive services to patients and their families.

Hospice is the management of terminal disease in such a way that people are able to "live until they die," and their families are able to live with them as they are dying—and go on living afterward.

"Hospice" was originally a medieval term meaning a resting place for sick and dying travelers returning from the Holy Land. Special care was provided, giving personal attention, the best food and clean clothing and linens to those facing death a great distance from their home.

Current use of the word was derived from the development of programs for care of the dying in England. Within the last five to seven years, the hospice movement has begun in the United States, with approximately 200 groups in various stages of planning and/or operation.

Hospice of Madison County subscribes to the following philosophy of the National Hospice Organization:

"Death is a universal fact of life and, whether or not it is accompanied by disease, dying is a normal process. We believe that every person is entitled to participate fully in this part of life in order to prepare for death in a way that is personally satisfactory.

"Hospice, as an option in the medical care system, exists not to postpone death but, with special skills and therapies, to help the patient and family live as fully as possible. Death is not denied, but life is affirmed as lived until death comes.

"We believe that we are all dependent on one another. Therefore, it is crucial, in the last few months of life, to help develop a caring community that can provide comprehensive services to patients and their families."

Major goals of the Madison County program:

(1) Provide physical, psychological and spiritual care for a person suffering from disease diagnosed as terminal, regardless of that person's ability to pay for such care.

(2) Provide care for families of these persons during illness and bereavement.

(3) Provide team-oriented support system to help people live effectively in the face of death.

Basic characteristics of our Hospice program:

(1) Physician-directed services. Patients can remain under the care of their primary physician with the hospice physician as consultant if problems arise or, if so desired by the patient and/or family and the primary physician, the hospice physician may become the primary physician.

(2) Expertise in the control of symptoms—physical, psychological, social and spiritual—the priority item. By the use of previously tested combination of drugs, to keep the patient pain-free and alert by adjusting doses of medication on an individual basis. To assure whether the patient's pain is primarily physical, psychological, social or spiritual and provide appropriate services to relieve the pain.

(3) Care is provided by an interdisciplinary team. This team includes the physician, nurses, social worker, psychologist, clergy and health care professionals, such as physical and occupational therapists, a dietitian, lawyer or hairdresser. Formal meetings of the team will be held each week to assess each patient's problems.

(4) Service is available 24 hours a day seven days a week. During regular working hours, the office will be open for emergencies patients might have. The hospice staff will be on call during evening and nighttime hours and on weekends. An on-call system will be developed so that any emergency, day or night, will be taken care of promptly by a visit to the patient.

(5) Patient and family as the unit of care. No person is an island. Terminal illness has heavy implications for family members as well as for the patient. They pass through similar stages as does the patient in preparing for his or her death. Family members need emotional support in order to help care for the patient, and to promote an open relationship in dealing with the death of a family member.

(6) Bereavement follow-up services. The family members are not forgotten after death occurs. Contact is maintained for at least a year and if pathological grief reactions are present, professional help is available. In other programs, survivors have frequently become willing volunteers in the hospice program.

(7) Use of volunteers in the program. Volunteers bring a fresh outlook to the program as laymen working with the professional team. Many times the patient and family can identify with the volunteers much more readily than the team members. The volunteers can provide many services to a tired family, such as baby-sitting, grocery shopping, or patient-sitting to allow the primary caregiver some time away.

They can also do many types of office work, speaking, publicity, etc. This helps to defray the cost of our operation. In New Haven, Conn., nearly one-third of the staff is volunteer.

Medical director - Dr. Shabbir H. Sadfar, practicing oncologist.

Program coordinator - must be a registered nurse, with 50 percent of time spent in direct patient care and 50 percent of time spent in administrative duties and community relations.

Social Worker - part-time.

Clergy - part-time, as needed.

R.N. - part-time.

Secretarial help - full-time coverage.

Contracted and/or consultant staff to be arranged with community agencies, and will consist of:

Physical therapist.

Occupational therapist.

Psychiatric consultant.

Lawyer.

Dietician.

Homemaking help.

Staff will increase as financial situation improves and patient load increases.

Short-term goals:

(1) To gain community support by informational publicity.

(2) To secure enough financial support to allow commencement of patient care.

(3) To provide quality hospice care within the limits of staff and finances.

Long-term goals:

(1) To secure funding through grant or community support to provide comprehensive hospice care.

(2) To become essentially self-supporting by qualifying as a fully-accredited home health agency, reimbursable by third party payers.

(3) To serve as an educational center for health care professionals in providing care for the terminally ill.

(4) To examine feasibility of an in-patient unit in the future.

Marijuana arrests in park

Three juvenile boys were arrested at 11:45 a.m. Friday in Wilson Park behind Granite City High School South and were charged with possession of cannabis.

Two plainclothes detectives reported seeing a group of about seven youths seated in a circle in the grass, one smoking a small pipe. When the detectives approached, those in the group appeared nervous and the youth with the pipe put it in his clothing.

He was asked to empty his pockets and the pipe was in a front pocket, officers said. A cigarette pack containing 12 marijuana cigarettes fell from another pocket. The boy, 16 years old, who lives on Buxton Avenue, was arrested and other members of the group were searched.

A 14-year-old Dale Avenue youth had a marijuana cigarette in his wallet and a large knife in a pocket, and a 16-year-old Aubrey Avenue boy had a marijuana cigarette in his wallet, police alleged.

The three were released to relatives on notices to appear before juvenile officials.

Charge three with assault

Leland W. Mathes, 24, of Briarcliff Drive, Charles F. Valle, 24, Edwardsville, and Richard W. Curtis, 24, Cahokia, were arrested in the traffic lanes of Nameoki Road by Coolidge Junior High School at 3:25 a.m. Sunday.

The three were charged with assault in complaints they signed against each other.

Police said they found the three arguing by their cars in the traffic lanes and alleged Mathes was holding a stick of wood. Mathes said he stopped behind a car at the red light and the driver of that car got out and made comments to Mathes. A fight developed and a third man became involved in the scuffle. Mathes said he then got into his car but was charged with assault.

Mother's Day was a lovely day for Mrs. Wanda Gibson. All six of her children were home and the traditional day set aside to honor one's mother was spent in the usual way—opening personal gifts, eating a big Sunday dinner and watching the lively antics of her two grandsons.

Among the gifts she received was an unopened present from a married son that may prove to be invaluable.

Mrs. Gibson doesn't know its worth, money-wise, but its historical value is easy to imagine, if authenticated.

The Mother's Day gift is a parchment document that grants 150 acres of land in the Territory of Illinois to a soldier named Willis Ramsey.

The signature on the land grant is that of James Monroe, the fifth President of the United States of America, then in its 42nd year.

The document is in surprisingly good condition, considering it was found in an out-of-the-way cupboard beneath a pile of rags in the Edwardsville courthouse.

Most of it is legible, including the signature of President Monroe.

The reverse side of the document contains readable data relating to the land grant's formal recording at the Recorder's Office in Edwardsville, dated 1818.

The recording information includes the statement: "I certify that the written patent duty (was) recorded in my office in Book F1, 1818."

The signature appears to be that of a Josiah or Isiah Randle.

The mellowed parchment contains printing and written statements.

A portion of it states: "Acts of Congress appropriating and granting land to the late Army of the United States (illegible) on and since the Sixth Day of May, 1812."

"Warrant in his favor No. 9287, there is granted unto the fair Willis Ramsey, a late Private in Melhenny and company of the 20th Regiment of Infantry, a certain tract of land containing 100 and 50 acres in the Northwest Quarter of Section 35 of Township 13 South in Range Two West in Tract appropriated (by the Acts of Congress) to the Militaries Bounties in the Territory of Illinois. In testimony whereof."

The document states that it originates from the "General Land Office, Washington, D. C., dated the 15th Day of December in the Year of Our Lord 1817 and of the Independence of the United States of America the 42nd year of the President (signed) James Monroe."

A second signature, unlike President Monroe's, is a bold hand, is barely discernible but appears to be a Jeremiah Weigo, or Welgo.

Mrs. Gibson's married son who lives in Madison found the document by chance a few days before he delivered it to his mother as a gift.

"He lives in an old house in Madison and he was cleaning off the back porch and saw these little dots on a cupboard, in back of the bathroom, to the outside," the mother said.

She described the dwelling as the type that commonly is referred to as a "shotgun house."

"He reached inside and found some shingles and other stuff, mostly old and dirty. He kept feeling around inside and pulling out more and more junk."

"Way back inside and around a ledge, he pulled out a bunch of old rags."

"The paper was underneath the rags," she said.

The document wasn't the only "treasure" found in the cupboard that day.

Mrs. Gibson also has a full one pound box of C&H Powdered Sugar, D&B and a blue cardboard exterior, copyrighted in 1939, is unbroken and its contents are soft to the touch.

A full can of orange pekoe Monarch Tea, manufactured in Chicago by Reid, Murdoch & Co. established 1893, was found along with half-filled bottle of Creamcap, a patent medicine which promises relief for coughs and colds, and symptoms, if ingested as directed by a specific number of drops.

Although Mrs. Gibson's family has had no contact with Madison, oddly enough a relative by marriage some years past was named Ramsey. "But, they came from Tennessee," she said. She is interested in learning whether the document is authentic and is planning to seek some information from museums and the Edwardsville courthouse.

The new owner also would like to know the land grant's historical and monetary value, but she really is at a loss to know where to start and she has little time to spend in such pursuits.

Mrs. Gibson works at the Olin Corp. plant in East Alton, changing her work shift from days to afternoons and then midnights on a weekly basis.

She has been employed by Olin for 13 years and is an ammunition inspector.

Jack Gibson, her husband, also is an Olin employee. He has been at the plant for seven years.

The Gibsons also have a son and daughter working for the same company and in the same factory.

Among their six children, four still are living at home. Wanda Gibson works hard, as do the rest of her family members, with little time off for herself.

"Maybe it will end up with us having to go to Washington to find out about the document," she said, laughing.

"In April, the refinery told us we would get 210,000 gallons this month and then May 6 they informed us we would only get 180,000 gallons. We hope the gasoline will help. We have 5,000 gallons at our Route 111 station now and more is on the way," the spokesman said.

Gasohol from the Spartan station was selling at 9.9 cents per gallon, four cents higher than lead-free gasoline, when checked Friday afternoon.

"In addition, it burns cleaner, with less odor, and provides better performance due to the higher octane. It actually ranks with high-octane lead-free gasoline in its performance," a spokesman for Spartan said.

"We hope it will help stretch our allotment of gasoline for this month, since the gasohol is a mixture of 90 percent gasoline and 10 percent alcohol."

"I do not predict we will run out of either gasohol or gasoline this month, unless there is a panic buying. However, our supplies are reduced."

"We hope it will help stretch our allotment of gasoline for this month, since the gasohol is a mixture of 90 percent gasoline and 10 percent alcohol."

"In April, the refinery told us we would get 210,000 gallons this month and then May 6 they informed us we would only get 180,000 gallons. We hope the gasoline will help. We have 5,000 gallons at our Route 111 station now and more is on the way," the spokesman said.

Gasohol from the Spartan station was selling at 9.9 cents per gallon, four cents higher than lead-free gasoline, when checked Friday afternoon.

Gasohol now available here

While gasoline supplies may be short at some stations, a spokesman for the Spartan Service Stations announced Friday that gasohol, a mixture of gasoline and alcohol, now is available at the Spartan station on Highway 111 at Route 162, south of Pontoon Beach.

Although the gasohol costs about four cents more per gallon than unleaded gasoline, experts estimate it provides four to five percent better mileage, compensating for the price difference.

PEN PALS GET TOGETHER. Students from Frohardt and Parkview schools, who have been exchanging letters throughout the school year, were brought together last week for what is hoped will be an annual pen pal picnic. The students, all second graders, enjoyed their lunches with their own pen pals. Above (left to

Board meeting being planned

An Associational board meeting will be held tonight for members of the Madison County Baptist Association at Calvary Baptist Church, 3000 Washington Ave., at 7:30. Leonard Lindgren, the church training director, will introduce the Equipping Centers, a new concept in church training.

TO EXTRADITE
The Madison County sheriff's department will extradite Richard Warren, 24, who gave his address as 2001 Edison, to Reno County, Kan., where he is wanted on an alleged charge of selling cocaine. He was stopped at Maryville Road and Woodlawn Avenue by deputies on a routine check. When deputies inquired they found a warrant for his arrest had been issued by Kansas authorities.

Some shutdowns at SIUE during holiday period

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has announced its building operation schedule during Memorial Day weekend, May 25-26, according to Jim Johnson of Plant Operations. The University Center, with the exception of the recreation area, will close at 5 p.m. Friday, May 25, and remain closed Saturday, Sunday and Monday, May 26, 27 and 28.

The recreation area will close Friday, May 25, at midnight and will remain closed the following Saturday, Sunday and Monday. All other campus core buildings will be closed May 25-28, with the exception of Lovejoy Library which will be open Monday, May 28, from 2 p.m. until 9 p.m. Regular building hours and normal building operations will resume Tuesday, May 29, at 7 a.m., Johnson said.

City sticker 'crackdown' under way

Granite City police blockades to check for city vehicle tax stickers were set up Thursday, but sales of city stickers indicate most city residents obtained their stickers before the deadline at 5 p.m. Tuesday. City Clerk Robert W. Stevens said 15,500 auto stickers and more than 2,900 truck stickers had been issued by Thursday, which is slightly above last year's deadline. Only 17,000 auto stickers were issued for all of last year, including re-issues for those who bought new cars during the year. "Sales of truck stickers are way up this year. It just seems like everyone is buying a truck or a van this year," Stevens said.

Field school at mound site

The Cahokia Mounds Museum Society will sponsor an archaeological field school for non-professional archaeologists at Cahokia Mounds again this summer. Purpose of the excavation will be to uncover traces of the stockade wall which once surrounded the central portion of the prehistoric city. Students will receive training in the various phases of field archaeology and laboratory processing, including surveying, excavation, photography, mapping, and the processing and identification of artifacts.

The field school is not designed to produce professional archaeologists, but to stimulate greater appreciation for archaeology and to provide the public with an opportunity to participate in a controlled archaeological program. Six sessions of two weeks each will be offered starting June 4, June 18, July 2, July 16, July 30 and Aug. 13. The work week will be 5 1/2 days (44 hours) per week. Sessions will be limited to 12 to 15 students who will work under the supervision of experienced Cahokia archaeologists.

Students letter published

Weekly Reader Eye has published a letter from the fifth-grade class of Mrs. Marilyn Ronney at Frohardt School. As a class assignment, the children wrote letters telling what places should be preserved for all time. Mrs. Ronney chose excerpts from several letters and sent the letter to the magazine stating why Cahokia Mounds State Park should be preserved. It was one of four published.

Weekly Reader, in its 50th year of publication, is used in class studies by over a million children and teachers each school year. Among other places mentioned for preservation were Yellowstone National Park, Egyptian pyramids, St. Augustine, Fla., Mount Rushmore and the Grand Canyon.

Cahokia Mounds State Park was a large Indian city which flourished between 1300 and 1700 A.D. Archaeologists from around the world are interested in the 85 mounds, the largest being over 100 feet high.

PTA officers are elected at Emerson

Emerson School PTA held its last meeting of the school year and elected new officers. Principal Alfred Wilson conducted the installation. Those installed were: William Sternberg, president; Mary Henke, vice-president; Lynn Ross, secretary; and Sally Mathis, treasurer.

It was announced that the school picnic will be held at Wilson Park May 24. Following the business meeting, the students of Jim Greenwald's physical education class gave a disco demonstration. Refreshments were served by the Emerson School room mothers.

Field school participants must be over 18 years old and in good physical condition. Sixteen to 17 year olds will be accepted with signed consent of their parents. For applications or for more information, Quad Cities may call 344-4750 or write the Cahokia Mounds Museum Society, 7850 Collinsville Road, East St. Louis 62201.

Building trades house tour set

An open house at 2134 Hamilton Drive, a house constructed by students in the Granite City building trades program, will be held from noon to 3 p.m. Thursday, and on Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Arrest women

Shirley Dolson, 20, State Park, was charged with criminal damage to property, and her sister, Vickie Figg, 18, of 1706 Cleveland Blvd., was charged with disorderly conduct after a disturbance at Ken's Lounge, 1539 Twentieth St., last week.

The six-room brick house will be sold through public bidding and sealed bids will be received until 3 p.m. Monday, June 4, at the board of education office, 20th and Adams streets. Prospective buyers may examine the house during the open house periods or may make appointments for inspections by calling 877-1512, Ext. 48.

Police were told a barmaid refused to serve the young woman and it was alleged Shirley Dolson threw a large rock through the tavern's front window. Vickie Figg allegedly used profanity toward charged and also was arrested. About 45 minutes later, police checked Shirley Dolson's jail cell at the Granite City police station and found her bleeding from a small cut to a wrist, believed caused by an aspirin tin. She declined to be taken to the hospital.

Coolidge band concert

Miss Elsie Maylath will conduct the Coolidge Junior High School Band in its annual spring concert at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at Granite City South auditorium. The program will feature special number by band students who received superior ratings in competition at district and state contests.

Admission is free and the public is invited to attend. Band selections will include "Bandology" concert march by Eric Osterling; "Devonshire Overture" by James D. Ployhar; highlights from "Oliver" by Lionel Bart as arranged by James Burden; "Caribbean Holiday" by Richard Otto; "Copacabana" by Barry Manilow as arranged by Robert Lowden; "Suite from Bohemia" consisting of four movements by Vaclav Nelybel; "Thendara Overture" by Maurice Whitney; "Saturday Night Fever" by the Gibb Brothers as arranged by John Cacavas; "Theme from Close Encounters of the Third Kind" movie as arranged by John Tatgenhorst. Featured will be a clarinet trio "Dainty Doll" played by Dawn Muskin, Mary Grace and Sherry Zigler; a clarinet solo "La Militaire" presented by Mary Grace, and a percussion trio "Ticonderoga" composed of John Menendez, Kent Hall and Paula Mathenia.

Piano accompanist for the groups will be Dan Vizer. Other members of the band are flutes: Robin Bristol, Angela Gargac, Sharon Henke, Jennifer Marier, Gloria Milanis, Shari Ogden, Tracie Rogers, Cheryl Soehnlin; clarinets: Jihoon Chang, Dana Churovich, Philip Hagen, Vicky Hayes, Rene

Group hears sheriff

Madison County Sheriff Emil J. Toffant was guest speaker last week at the second meeting of the Committee for Better Government, an organization primarily geared to residents of Nameoki Township.

The group met for a social evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley (Emily) Bone, 53 Cambridge Drive, and to hear Sheriff Toffant discuss his experience in directing the county law enforcement department since assuming office in December.

The former Illinois State Police captain of many years reviewed progress in the construction of the new Madison County Jail, which should be completed this summer. He also discussed the possibility of installing a toll-free line to the sheriff's office for residents living in the unincorporated areas of the county but said no firm decision has yet been made.

Plans to enlarge the committee's membership and to tour the county jail when the facility is ready for public inspection were items discussed informally by the group. At the committee's organizational business session last month, Mrs. Helen Hawkins was named chairman, with Mrs. Peggy Allen elected secretary-treasurer.

Fifteen were present at the social meeting and were served coffee and dessert by the host couple.

Kitchen design based on need

Madison County Extension
Adviser, Home Economics Thinking of remodeling your kitchen? Be sure to do a lot of planning before you start to work. A poorly designed kitchen can be difficult and frustrating to work in.

People spend billions of dollars on kitchen construction, remodeling and appliances. But what consumers buy, even when they buy the best of everything, does not necessarily result in a good kitchen.

Insufficient planning often leads to inadequate kitchens.
Many new and remodeled kitchens are based upon a hasty sketch on the back of an envelope. Sometimes people buy cabinets or appliances before they plan the kitchen. One frequent and major mistake consumers make is to take care of less essential items before committing space and money to basic kitchen cabinetry and equipment.
There is no kitchen perfect for everyone. An efficient kitchen must meet the individual family's needs and wants. It must accommodate the specific house plan and the amount of money available for desired changes. Each situation is unique because individual families are unique.

As you start planning, ask yourself these questions:
—Where does my family eat breakfast? Lunch?
Supper? Holiday meals?
Snacks?

—Does the family eat meals together or in shifts?

—Who cooks in the kitchen?

—Who will be cooking in the kitchen during the next two to six years? Is there a youngster in the family who will be learning to cook or a daughter or son about to leave home?

What activities other than cooking and eating are performed in your kitchen?

After giving your living mode some thought, put relevant information down on paper. List the kitchen activities and the number of persons involved. List the equipment items you feel are essential. Write down these features you consider necessary in your kitchen.

Do you require an eating area or a window over the sink?

List negative features as well. For example, you may not want a door opening into the kitchen.

Work in the kitchen

generally involves three major activities at three distinct locations: food preparation at the refrigeration-storage center, cooking at the range-cooking center, and preparation and clean-up at the sink-cleanup center.

Good kitchen planning provides a separate work center for each of these activities.

The locations of these three work areas form what is called "the work triangle." The three major work centers — around the refrigerator, sink, and range

— constitute the triangle's points. When added together, the three sides of the triangle should not measure more than 22 feet. A distance greater than that will probably waste steps, time and energy. But the sides of the triangle should not measure less than 13 feet.

Less than 13 feet will probably not give you enough counter, storage or work space.

Many kitchens also have supplementary work centers. These might include a dining center, mixing center, portable appliance center and planning center. Supplementary centers are optional, but they help make the kitchen fit your particular life-style.

Begin kitchen planning by considering your family's needs and preferences and the centers required to meet those needs. That is the first step in designing a kitchen you will find satisfying and enjoyable to work in.

Most persons are careful in choosing asso-

Here at the bank, we believe you have the right to expect certain things from your banker. He ought to have a professional approach. Professional in the sense your doctor is professional because he has your interest foremost. He ought to be prompt, and your time is valuable, and your banker should respect it.
And of course he should be a person of integrity. If he is not, you won't have to inquire of many persons before you find it out. Those things are not easily

We like close

AAUW celebrates its 25 years, and installs

The Granite City branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) celebrated its 25th anniversary and installed new officers during a special meeting held last week at Bill Burns Colonial Dining Room.

Miss Mary Frances Lynch served punch to members, former members, and guests and the invocation was given by Mr. Roy Lynn.

Decorations were done by co-chairman Mrs. Edna Lynn and Miss Virginia Segar and committee. A 25th anniversary guestbook, designed by Miss Marguerite Barker, was signed by all who attended.

Mrs. June Branding favored the group by singing three numbers, including "Reach Out and Touch". A brief discussion of the history of the club was held, with Mrs. Hazel Towery stating that the club, although it had begun organizing in the fall of 1953, it was not chartered until April 17, 1954. A list of the charter members was read and those original members present were given a red silk rose. Past presidents of the club were also presented with a rose. Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards, outgoing president, received a bouquet of yellow roses from the club, honoring her for having served three separate two year terms.

Miss Barker, who is soon to retire from teaching, received a gift from the club and Mrs. Mary Evans, of San Antonio, Tex., received the centerpiece from the head table for being the farthest traveled guest.

Mrs. Gladys Pape conducted the installation of new officers and Miss Virginia Segar presented a pink rose to each officer.

New officers for the year are Mrs. June Barton, president; Mrs. Jane Kozeliek, first vice-president; Mrs. Anita Eftimoff, second vice-president; Mrs. Lillie Ann Firmer, third vice-president; Mrs. Mary Hiller, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruby Foster, treasurer; and Miss Hazel Towery, corresponding secretary.

A report was given on the club's state convention, which was attended by Mesdames Mildred Smith, June Barton and Jane Kozeliek. Mrs. Donnie Calvin, state president, stated that a new branch of the AAUW will be chartered in Jerseyville next month. It was reported that there are 89 active branches of the AAUW with 8,600 members.

Mrs. Calvin presented a check for $100 to the new president for her trip to the 30th biennial national convention, to be held in Albuquerque, New Mexico, in June.

The next meeting will be held June 13 at 1 p.m. at Charlie's Restaurant.

MRS. WILLIAM DOWN. The former Miss Cynthia Ann Bellinger was married to William R. Down May 13 at St. John Lutheran Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bellinger, 2433 Iowa Ave.

Cynthia Bellinger, William Down wed

St. John Lutheran Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Cynthia Ann Bellinger and William R. Down on May 13.

Miss Bellinger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Bellinger, 2433 Iowa St. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Down, 30 Del Rio.

The candlelight ceremony took place at 7 p.m., and the Rev. Samuel Boda and the Rev. Dale Edwards officiated at the double ring ceremony, with the assistance of James Walston, the bride's uncle.

The bride selected a floor length gown of white organza over tulle. Silk venise lace outlined the Queen Anne neckline and enhanced the fitted bodice.

The bishop sleeves were cuffed in matching lace, and the same lace decorated the semi-full skirt which fell into a chapel train.

She chose a cathedral veil of bridal illusion trimmed in venise lace secured with a lace and pearl camellia headpiece.

Her flowers were a colonial arrangement of white silk roses, yellow rosewhite carnations, and colored carnations matching the bridesmaid's dresses.

Her nosegay was set on a tatted dill made by her grandmother, Mrs. Edith Kueth of Cowden, Ill.

Maid of honor was Miss Karen Bellinger, the bride's sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Samantha Irvin, Miss Pamela Fuchs, Miss Deana Walston, and Miss Cynthia McFall.

Gardenaires to plant at park

The Gardenaires Garden Club held its May meeting in the home of Mrs. Roy Hornum of Edwardsville last week. The hostess served a dessert luncheon to 11 members.

Mrs. Robert Hintz, president, conducted the business meeting and members responded to roll call with facts about the cardinal, bird of the month.

The plans for the flower bed to be planted at Wilson Park will be available the latter part of the month. Members were asked to meet at the park on May 22 to work on the bed.

It was noted that communal planting at the Madison County Nature Trail was completed at this time. Members were asked to continue individual plantings along the trail. It was announced that the District V Workshop will be held in Mascoutah and four members plan to attend.

Mrs. Leo Schank reported that the subject of the Mini Garden Center was landscaping and ornamental planting. Several free brochures on the subject are

Former resident wins scholarship

David Fleenor, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. David (Julian Evans) Fleenor of Toledo, Ohio, formerly of Granite City, has been selected as a winner of a National Merit Scholarship.

He is one of 12 Toledo area high school seniors who are among 1,450 winners of corporate-sponsored, four-year Merit Scholarships in the nationwide program.

David is the recipient of an Owens-Illinois, Inc., Merit Scholarship. He will graduate this month from St. Francis de Sales High School in Toledo.

The former resident attended Emerson Grade School here before moving with his parents to Toledo about 10 years ago.

He is planning to take prelaw work at Miami University at Oxford, Ohio. In high school he was co-captain of the varsity basketball team and earned recognition as a member of the "all-city" and "all-district" basketball squads.

David is a member of the National Honor Society and the St. Francis de Sales Student Council.

Each of the Merit Scholarships is worth from $1,000 to $6,000 or more over the undergraduate years of college.

The annual stipend is determined on an individual basis, generally within the range of a $250 minimum and a $1,500 maximum per year. Merit Scholars' stipends are not made public since they are derived, in part, from confidential financial information.

More than one million high school seniors entered the 1979 competition by taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test in October 1977.

About 15,000 of these students—the top 5 percent in each of the 50 states—were named semifinalists in the fall of 1978.

Close to 14,000 semifinalists advanced to the finalist level in the competition by meeting further requirements, including being endorsed and recommended by their high school principal and records showing high academic achievement.

David is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Fleenor of Madison and Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Evans of Granite City.

Installation by school secretaries

The Granite City Association of Educational Secretaries held a pot luck meal and installation of officers last week at Grigsby Junior High School. Mrs. Lucille Caban installed:

Mrs. Berta Milianis, president; Mrs. Pat Uzumoff, vice-president; Mrs. Irene Hatcher, recording secretary; Mrs. Irene Williams, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Mary Kewala, treasurer.

A new and increasingly important role of aluminum in today's society was explained by a movie "Aluminum: An Element of Change" which was shown to the Madison-Venice Rotary Club at its luncheon last week in the Madison Memorial Center.

Rotarian Alfred J. Weider, safety and training manager of the Consolidated Aluminum plant in Madison and Venice was the program chairman.

John Bellcoff to the movie he pointed out that the boundary line between Madison and Venice runs through the middle of the property.

The local plant is one of 16 operated by the Consolidated Aluminum Corporation, with the corporate headquarters being located in Westport, St. Louis County.

The M-V plant employs 876 people, with a monthly payroll of $1,365,000 and ships 14 million pounds of aluminum and magnesium a month.

Rotary President Al Hudzik announced that a joint installation of officers, with the Madison Lions Club, will be held on Wednesday, June 20, at the Sunset Hills Country Club.

John Bellcoff is the president-elect of Lions and John E. Lee III is the president-elect of the M-V Rotary club.

Fuel tax funds are allotted

Madison County has received $114,684 as its share of motor fuel tax funds paid into the state treasury during the month of April.

A total of $5,687,716 has been allotted to counties in Illinois, with Cook County receiving $2,719,237 as its share of the motor fuel tax funds.

Of the $7,975,764 allotted to Illinois, $5,687,716 was received by Madison County. The funds are to be used for various purposes, including road improvements and public safety.

Two rabies clinics to inoculate animals will be held Tuesday at the Nameoki Town Hall, 4250 Highway 162, and the second on Thursday at the Long Lake Fire Hall on Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach.

The clinics will be from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Additional clinics will be held May 31 at the Madison City Garage and June 5 at the Granite City Humane Shelter.

Secretaries scholarship award

Zoning hearings here Thursday

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will hold two on-site public hearings in Quad-City area townships Thursday.

The first hearing will be at 10:25 a.m. on Terry Street in Eagle Park Acres, in Vandalia Township, where Hazelia Baskett is requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home in an R-1 single-family residential district.

Ex-husband is charged in beating

James R. Proctor, 31, of 1613 Garfield Ave., was charged with criminal trespass to property and with battery after a disturbance at 9:05 p.m. Thursday at the home of Carl E. Cory Jr., of 2124 Grand Ave.

Neighbors reported hearing screams and a bang, as though a gun had been fired. When police arrived, they heard a disturbance in the Cory home and entered to find Cory holding a gun by the barrel. He handed it over to officers.

Cory alleged he awoke to hear his wife screaming and saw her former husband, Proctor, standing over her and choking her.

Cory told police he tried to aid his wife and got his gun to halt the attack, but he alleged Proctor refused to stop choking Mrs. Cory, even after Cory fired one shot over Proctor's head.

He said when he then aimed his gun directly at Mrs. Cory's assailant, he stopped and backed away, but then came toward Mrs. Cory again, picked her up and threw her against a wall.

Police arrested Proctor and questioned Mrs. Cory, who alleged her ex-husband had thrown her against the refrigerator and the kitchen door, had knocked her to the floor and had slapped her, knocking off her glasses, all before her husband awoke.

Marijuana arrest

Eric Larson, 18, of 2207 Broadway Ave., was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis after police alleged finding marijuana in his car in the 2400 block of Delman Avenue at 4 p.m. Thursday.

A Granite City policeman alleged seeing four youths in the car passing something back and forth. When the auto stopped to discharge a passenger, the officer approached it and alleged smelling marijuana smoke.

He asked the driver to give him the marijuana and said the driver gave him two marijuana cigarette butts, called roaches.

Also found in the car was a plastic bag of marijuana, police alleged. The three passengers in the car were released without being charged.

Assessor office move voted, 8-6

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

The Granite City Township assessor's office will move into the Granite City Hall, under the township budget approved on first reading last week by city officials.

The aldermen, seated at the town board, expressed varying opinions on the issue and the move was approved on an 8-6 vote.

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward, who was acting as mayor pro-temp, stated, "The township assessor belongs in the township building, not in the city hall. I say let the township officials work out their own problems in the township."

The vote ended debate on a series of possible moves which had been presented to the aldermen "at the 12th hour," as the deadline for approval of the budget approaches.

The Granite City Police Department will move from the basement of the city hall into the new police building on Madison Avenue next to the main fire station about June 1, leaving the basement vacant.

Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse requested the space, reiterating his long-standing argument that space provided for his office in the township building at 2040 Delmar Ave. is too small for his staff to do its jobs properly. The 14 employees of the assessor's staff have 1,400 square feet in their office and Cruse contended the space is far too small, particularly with the quadrennial assessment program to start next year.

Cruse had suggested the assessor's office and the Granite City Special Education District switch offices in the township building, which would give the assessor 2,000 square feet. However, an architect's estimate was sought for constructing a new partition to give privacy for counseling in the proposed special education area and the architect estimated it would cost $47,000.

Cruse told the council he believed a modified partition which would enable the assessor's office to switch spaces could be built for $35,000 and he noted that the $25,000 in the township budget for constructing a storage building at the township building.

Granite City Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer, objected, saying the storage building is badly needed for chairs and tables and said he would accept the blame for failure to provide sufficient storage space when the township building first was designed.

Hagnauer noted the school district would require a three-year extension on its free lease, if moved into the smaller quarters. He said he believes the township has already paid too much to the school district for the site of the township building and should not give a rent-free extension of the lease.

The school district gave the township the site in the 2000 block of Delmar Avenue when Central School was vacated and due to be destroyed. The township paid to demolish the building and gave the school district free space in the township building in return for the school and property.

The agreement called for the school district to have 2,000 square feet in the building for seven years, rent-free. The space is occupied by Special Education Region One.

Hagnauer contended Central School was appraised at $96,000 and the township spent $54,000 to tear it down. They the town gave special education space valued at about $6,000 per year, or $42,000 worth of free rent in the seven years of the agreement.

He indicated he feels the township has paid enough for the site and should not give additional time for free education to use the township building rent-free beyond the original seven years.

Hagnauer ended up the winner in the debate over the budget, getting not only the $35,000 for the storage building, but also getting the 1,400 square feet now used by the assessor when the latter moves his office to city hall.

Voting in favor of moving the assessor to the basement of the city hall were Aldermen Everett Morlen, Warren Decatur, Glen Sprankle, Charles Douglas, Fred Schumann, Lloyd Bailey, Margaret Nann and Mike Modrusic.

Voting against the move were Aldermen Whitmer, Roy Poulos, Earl Baker, Paul Ray Bowler, Paul Fisk and Mac Warfield.

The aldermen then voted 13 to 1 to approve the budgets, which included $50,000 to aid in financing lights for the Fehling Road soccer and baseball complex and $20,000 for gymnasium bleachers and improvements at Granite City High School North, both from federal revenue sharing funds.

Aldermen Charles Douglas, who opposed the school improvements, lengthy presentations at both the public hearing on the budget before the council meeting and again at the meeting, cast the only negative vote. He also had objected at earlier meetings.

Douglas contended giving money to the school district would be illegal. William Schooley, attorney for the township, said in a written legal opinion that he felt the expenditures, which are for recreation, are legal and within the guidelines of the federal revenue sharing program.

The only changes from the budget originally posted and published were a $10,000 increase in the assessor's budget from $27,000 to $37,000 reached during discussions between Cruse and the council's finance committee, the addition of $6,000 for the assessor's office to move into city hall and remodel the new space, and an increase in salaries for the supervisor's staff.

Hagnauer said he increased salaries for his staff from seven percent to 8.5 percent when he learned the city hall employees were about to increase to 8.5 percent.

Fire hydrants are installed

Four new fire hydrants have been installed by the Illinois-American Water Company at the request of Mayor Mike Sasyk and the Madison County Council.

They are located at the northwest corner of Hildebrand and Central streets; northwest corner of Alton Avenue and Central; northwest corner of Central and Troy Avenue; and northwest corner of Fifth Street and Troy.

The Madison City Council last week was informed the new fire hydrants were in service.

A discussion by the council was held regarding persons allowing grass and weeds to grow too high.

City health inspectors were directed by the council to list locations where weeds are high and legal action, if necessary, is to be taken against anyone who allows his property to become a health hazard.

The council approved transfer of $10,000 from the playground and recreation department and $7,500 of federal revenue funds were transferred to the Public Library fund.

First Ward Alderman Robert D. Reeves said, "I think the citizens of Madison and our council should go on record thanking City Attorney C. A. S. P. R. Nighossian for choosing to remain as city attorney, rather than as assistant state's attorney for Madison County."

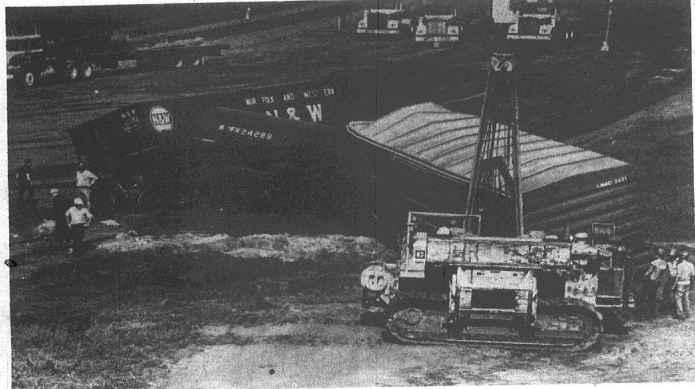

The Madison County state's attorney in recent weeks asked several assistants who represent taxing bodies to choose which job they would hold, maintaining a possible conflict of interest could arise.

The council approved, $29,445 in city bills for the month of May 20 to May 15, in addition to a $16,000 final payment on the street department front loader.

Fines collected for April were reported to be $2,300.

64 BURGLARY CASE

A $24 coffee maker and a $30 kitchen wall clock were stolen from the apartment of Patrick Stuckey, 4912 Kirkpatrick Home. It was discovered Thursday. A window was removed from a door to gain entry.

LAST THREE FREIGHT CARS of a five-car pileup which occurred early Thursday morning a short distance north of the Venice viaduct are cleared from the derailment site.

Included in the pileup were one tank car and four freight cars. The tank car at the center and one train car at right right perpendicular to the tracks.

Salvation Army—56 years in GC

By VALERIE EVENDEN of the Press-Record

If there is one organization most concerned with the individual—a youngster, an alcoholic, an elderly person, an abused wife, or a drugged teenager—it has to be The Salvation Army.

Its service to all people is based on "Love of God and Love of Man," as a proclamation issued by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler states.

The document was signed on the occasion of The Salvation Army's 56th anniversary in the local community and its 96th year in the United States.

Salvation Army serves 83 countries, preaches in 111 languages and maintains 19,008 religious-charitable centers and 48 schools for officers' training.

Salvation Army Captain Elmer Trapp of the Tri-Cities Corps Headquarters said, "As we think back over human history, most of us can recall, or have read about all sorts of attempts to improve the lot of man materially, and lift him higher—morally and spiritually."

"Many of these religions or revolutions don't last too long. They make headlines for a few months or years."

nostrum is out of fashion."

The captain continued, "The Salvation Army has been in the business of helping people in the United States for 96 years. We are concerned with individuals, one by one."

"Our attempts to help the lonely, needy or troubled individual are based on the principle we have always followed, Heart to God, Hand to Man."

While the Army's "heart" stays in the same place, with the times, Capt. Trapp said. He noted The Salvation Army uses the new ideas and methods developed by social and physical scientists to help troubled people. But it sticks with its fundamental philosophy of helping a person to help himself, not fostering dependency.

The Salvation Army has fought ridicule to emerge as an international leader in the social service field.

"As the Army nears its first centennial anniversary in the United States, the nation should be grateful that this organization committed to easing suffering has given so much of itself to the American people," a local supporter said.

In Hong Kong, many young people get their only opportunity to learn trades at Army-sponsored vocational training center.

In Paris, the Army operates a barge on the River Seine to provide food and shelter for the homeless.

India with its millions of people has the benefit of more than 4,400 Salvation Army Centers, including the Catherine Booth Hospital at Nagorecoil—50 buildings in its complex—providing a variety of services, including medical, surgical and rehabilitation, to thousands of patients each year.

At Jamaica in the West Indies, the Army maintains an outstanding school for the blind, as well as workshops, a training farm and a home for the adult blind.

More than 3,000 centers are established in Africa, including schools for the blind and rehabilitation centers for crippled children.

Here, in the United States, thousands of senior citizens are aided through the Army's modern residences, golden age clubs, hot lunch programs and counseling services.

As stated in the proclamation, The Salvation Army's principles are "soundly based on well-tried truths. Its practices are up-to-date and meet the needs of today."

It's that time of the year for spring fever

After one of the most bitter winters in history—Quad-City and Illinois residents are finally getting the opportunity to get outside and enjoy the warmer temperatures.

For some, it's a feeling of being more relaxed and uninhibited—something many experts call "spring fever."

"Actually, it's a time of reawakening," says Mary Elizabeth Reeves, psychologist in the College of Nursing at the University of Illinois Medical Center.

That feeling, she says, is brought on by warmer temperatures, longer days and "new colors."

"It's a feeling of lacking tenseness," she says. "People feel relaxed and really very good."

But spring can, and often does, have its negative effects.

"It's possible that there will be an increase in the suicide rate because a depressed person has been hoping for a rebirth all winter long," she says.

What happens, says Dr. Reeves, is while it appears that everyone else is "out and around," the depressed person still finds that he is alone, with no one to share the new season.

Dr. Reeves points out that it's not unusual to find the crime rate decreasing during spring.

She attributes that to two key elements. "First of all, more people are outside. And secondly, there are more hours of daylight."

Dr. Reeves says that during the winter months, when there are fewer hours of daylight, crime rates tend to rise, especially between 5 and 7 p.m.

Spring, however, gives encouragement to many that winter's snow and cold have finally passed.

"In the northern hemisphere, it's even more prominent because we see the migration of birds, something that reassures us that, in fact, it's spring."

Explorer Spring Fling is planned

One hundred Explorers, of the Cahokia Mound Council, have planned what the youths term a "Spring Fling."

The event is designed to be a total fun weekend on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 15, 16 and 17, at Camp Sunn, near Potosi, Mo.

Registrations are limited to the first 100 area Explorers who sign up before 5 p.m. Wednesday, June 6, at the Boy Scout office, 2016 Delmar Ave.

An Explorer committee spokesman said no late reservations will be accepted.

The Explorers will camp at Sunn on Friday and Saturday night and take a canoe float trip down the Courtois river on Saturday.

Adult advisers for the event are William Fox, Dr. Jack Miller, Sgt. Glenn Wright and Conrad Petch, council Exploring executive.

Valuation upheld by Supreme Court as basis for a 3-2 levee board majority for this portion of district

The Illinois Supreme Court "stood tall" last week in ruling against continued St. Clair County dominance of the Metro-East Sanitary District, successor to the East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

Advocates of the status quo had argued against control by a "wealthy minority" residing in the Madison County portion of the district, the Quad-City area. There isn't that kind of wealth here, but this community might not have pursued the legal fight had not the St. Clair County portion treated the Quad-Cities as a center of wealth that was fair game to be drained through property taxes — taxes that were collected here and mainly spent in the area to the south.

The justices said, "The supposed discrimination based on wealth presumably refers to the differentiation between the two portions of the district on the basis of the equalized assessed valuation of property. The plaintiff fails to show that the value of land measures the wealth of its owner, however. It must also be noted that we do not deal here with an attempt to make the ownership of property a condition for voting, or of holding office.

"There is no constitutional requirement that the appointed governing body of a district be so constituted that a majority of its members 'represent' the more populous of the areas which compose the district. Indeed, when an officeholder need not be elected at all, it seems questionable to speak of him as a 'representative.'"

"Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer also contends that the district is in any event exempt from the one-man, one-vote rule because it is a special-purpose unit of government.

"While the district does possess some typical governmental powers, such as the power of eminent domain, the power to levy property taxes, and the power to issue bonds, these powers exist as means of fulfilling the district's basic purposes of protecting against the overflow of water and disposing of water, sewage and other drainage. The district does not provide general public services such as schools, housing, transportation and the like."

Many have contributed to the success and growth of the local community's 75-year-old medical center

Quad-City Community Service Awards were presented to Robert Edmonds, Joseph Glik, Chris Kacaleff, Anthony Michel, Milton Morris, Carl Raft, Albert Stoever and Austin Witter. Sister Mary Paul and Sister Mary Thomas of the Sisters of Divine Providence, operators of the Medical Center; Doctors of Medicine Lawrence Aronberg, Michael Baggot, Maria Bauer, Charles Chere, Jacob Cohen, Frank Dioneda, Melvin Freedman, Robert Hill, Felicia Koch, Obert Lay, Bernard Lottman and Alan Skirball and Doctor of Dental Surgery Albert Tritani.

Presentation of the first Niedringhaus Award went to George W. Niedringhaus III. And the (Sister) De La Roche Award, commemorating a co-founder of the Sisters of Divine Providence, was presented to Radio Station KMOX, whose health information programs have included series on mental health.

The other co-founder, Bishop William Emmanuel Baron Von Ketteler, is being noted in the naming of the new psychiatric facilities, designated as the Ketteler Center.

Special guests at Sunday's dedication and blessing were Mrs. Helen Wurtz, first child born at St. Elizabeth, and Mrs. Nora Callis, registered nurse, representing the initial nurses to be employed there.

Chosen to take part in the ribbon cutting were Sister Theodore, who is celebrating her 50th year of service at St. Elizabeth; Dr. Alejandro M. Datuin, first chief of the Department of Psychiatry; Dr. Hemachandra P. Gunawardhana, present psychiatry department chief; Mrs. Ralph Hausman, director of the Department of Social Work; and Mrs. Iva Gooding, nursing supervisor of psychiatry.

Unveiling of the cornerstone plaque was by Sister Mary Paul, representing the SEMC board of directors; Dr. Donald Schnellmann, president of the SEMC medical staff; Paul Hopper, director of plant services at the medical center; and Mrs. Louise Smith, president of the SEMC Auxiliary.

Thousands of persons have aided and been aided by St. Elizabeth during its 75 years of service to the community and mankind. It is highly fitting that the now large and diverse medical center, dedicated to the achievement of God's will, utilize this occasion to recognize some of the many people who have made its high goals a reality.

Urban luncheon, office hour change

The Madison County Urban League will hold its "Madison County Urban League Reports to the Community" luncheons May 24 and May 25.

The agency has two local offices, The Madison County Urban League Family Planning Clinic, 1239A 19th St., Granite City, and the Madison County Urban League Housing Office, 500 Madison Ave., Madison.

These offices will be closed during the following hours: Thursday, May 24, 10:45 to 2, and May 25, 10:15 to 2:30. Supply pickups at the Family Planning Clinic on May 25 will be from 9 to 10 a.m.

Don Freeman, former Madison High School,

University of Illinois and pro basketball star, will speak at the Urban League luncheon at 12 noon Thursday at the Venice Community Center, 323 Broadway.

CONGRATULATIONS BY POPE, PRESIDENT
Congratulations on St. Elizabeth Medical Center's 75th anniversary and completion of its Ketteler Psychiatric Center were voiced at ceremonies here yesterday by Pope John Paul II in a telegram. He extended blessings to all who aid the medical center in any way.

AMTRAK TO SPRINGFIELD is enjoyed last week by 193 Emerson Grade School students and 43 adults. The train made a special stop in Granite City to pick them up after pupils had written to the Amtrak president, who granted their request. While in Springfield, the youngsters foured the State Capitol and visited other historic sites. The above photographs show Principal Al Wilson voicing last-minute instructions, and then the eager children scrambling to board the passenger train.

FIND MIDDLE "C", is the instruction given by Sue McGhee to little Nicki Petrillo (above). A few minutes is given to each student session by the teacher for learning the keyboard.

Musical kindergarten Music can be fun for little ones

The children in Sue McGhee's musical kindergarten class are between four and six years old, most of them five. They are pre-music lesson students who are learning that music is fun.

The feeling at National School of Music is that attitude is most important for youngsters about to begin taking music lessons. Musical kindergarten was created to teach the value of music and the lessons they are about to undertake. The class lasts for an hour and a half and has between 10 and 12 students. Miss McGhee has many things for the little ones to do, each activity lasting about 10 minutes so as not to lose the children's attention.

Mr. Treble Clef and Mr. Bass Clef take their proper places as the teacher begins to draw notes on the lines of the scale. The youngsters are learning note values. It is quite a game. The children are eager and throw up their hands to give Miss McGhee the answers.

The little ones learn to read music and also find out about rhythm. They sing songs and play in the rhythm band. Each has a few minutes with the teacher at the organ or piano, learning the keyboard.

Part of the program is to introduce the youngster to the world of musical instruments. The little ones and their parents get a better idea of which instrument is best suited to the child.

Musical kindergarten brings music to the level of the child, making scales, treble and bass clefs and notes fun to learn about. Upon graduation, the little ones are ready for the task of learning to create their own music.

Orientation for hospice

Hospice of Madison County will hold a special orientation meeting on Wednesday, May 23, at 7 p.m. at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th and Delmar Ave. Dr. Shabbir Safdar, medical director of Hospice, said that the public is invited and those attending are under no obligation to join the program.

Those interested in any of the training sessions to be discussed during the orientation meeting are being urged to register for membership.

Eight topics will be explained by instructors, each giving a 10 minute talk. Those topics to be discussed are as follows:

DOCTOR'S ROLE IN MEDICINE, presented by Dr. Shabbir Safdar, practicing oecologist, medical director and chairman of the board of directors for Hospice.

NURSE'S TRAINING, written and presented by Linda Lillis, registered nurse, instructor of nursing at SIUE and director of education for Hospice, and Doris Bell, registered nurse, assistant professor of Nursing at SIUE and a member of Hospice. (SIUE will give continuing education unit credit to any registered nurse completing the class.)

VOLUNTEER'S TRAINING, written by Nina Millett, registered nurse, social worker at St. Francis Hospital and co-chairman of the board of Hospice. The program will be presented by Rebecca Slate, coordinator of adult volunteers at St. Elizabeth Medical Center and director of volunteers for Hospice. Assisting will be Lois Lybarger, a nurse from the Mental Health Clinic who is working in Hospice as her practicum for a master's degree in counseling.

education. (Volunteers play a large role in a hospice program, no matter what the volunteer's occupation, skills or specialty.)

SOCIAL WORK, written and presented by Nina Millett.

PASTORAL SERVICES, written and presented by the Rev. Charlotte Zachary, a registered nurse and pastor of the Madison United Presbyterian Church and director of clergy for Hospice.

BEREAVEMENT, written and presented by Irving Rosvold, who has done extensive work with cancer patients and their families and is director of the Bereavement Council for Hospice.

ABNORMAL GRIEF, written and presented by Nina Millett.

FUNERAL DIRECTOR, presented by Randall Irwin of Irwin Chapel for Funerals.

A question and answer period will follow the orientation, and registration for the two training programs will take place.

The nurse's training program will be held each Wednesday for four weeks beginning May 30, from 6-9 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The volunteer training program will be held each Monday for four weeks beginning June 4, from 7-9 p.m. in the Wiesman Room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

For further information on the training or the Hospice program, Quad-Cityans may call Hospice of Madison County, 786-3615.

Summer Safety Rule No. 1 "HEADS UP"

Flying a tethered model airplane...

Be sure there are no overhead power lines that the plane could hit. And remember—wire or metal-thread strings on model planes or kites act as electric conductors.

...tree climbing

Oaklawn Terrace Granite City, Ill.

47 Janday Lane

Observe and come see this brand new brick ranch home in Granite City's loveliest location. The Spacious landscaped corner lot allows you the elbow room for that estate feeling. Like the smell of a new car, the aroma is repeated in the casual atmosphere of over two thousand square feet of living area. The extreme formality in the chandeliered dining room, living room and entry will send shivers about you when guests arrive through the columned porch. Combined kitchen and family room with vaulted ceiling and floor to ceiling windows, fireplace, and a relaxing evening contentment. Extra large roofed back porch can be enclosed for privacy and lounging throughout the year. The deep basement is ready for finishing and has masonry fireplace of its own. Side entry finished garage will hold what you have and up to four cars. It has two electric doors. There are three generous size bedrooms; including a grand master suite with full bathroom and double closets. Another full hall bath services the other two bedrooms with double closets. White six-panel doors are used throughout the home.

Jenn-A-Rain range, microwave plus oven, dishwasher, disposer and pantry are in the kitchen with breakfast bar cabinet. Oversize gas furnace with central air will always be helped by firmly packed energy saving package. Once you open the stained glass entry doors we know you'll find exactly what you've been waiting for.

PRICED FOR THOSE WHO CAN AFFORD THE VERY BEST CURRENT MORTGAGE RATES ARE ABOUT $6.00 PER THOUSAND. MOST OF WHICH IS TAX DEDUCTABLE.

Widowhood can be a desolate time

DEATH AND DYING — CHALLENGE AND CHANGE X: WIDOWHOOD

This is the tenth in a series of 15 articles exploring "Death and Dying: Challenge and Change." In this article, Helena Lopata, author of "Women as Widows," discusses why life for a surviving spouse is particularly difficult in urban America. This series was written for COURSES BY NEWSPAPER, a program developed by University Extension, University of California, San Diego, and funded by grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

X. WIDOWHOOD

By HELENA ZNANIECKI LOPATA

There are over 10 million widows and about 1.8 million widowers in America today. The average age of a widow is 62, and that of a widower somewhat higher.

For many if not most of these widows and widowers, the death of their partner has meant not only the grief associated with loss, but emotional, social, and financial problems as well.

Life for widows and widowers in modern America is unique.

Most other societies have not considered marriage to be as important a relationship as we do. Elsewhere, marriage are often embedded in kinship, village, or community values, needs, and goals. Surviving spouses thus have a variety of established supports to fall back upon when the crisis of death occurs.

Most widows soon remarry and, in many societies, widow inheritance, remarriage, or "levir" arrangements are usually available to the widow.

The Bible mentions the levir system by which a male relative of the deceased "enters the hut" of the widow "to raise up the seed" of the late husband, insuring that the widow continues to bear offspring in his name.

The widow and her children are thus absorbed into a new unit or retain membership in the deceased's family line, guaranteeing care and social integration.

It is the absence of such an integrating group that makes life for the surviving spouse in urban America so difficult and potentially traumatic. There are no common or accepted procedures for reinvestment of the widow or widower in any family or social unit.

Furthermore, the disparity in the number of widows and widowers, caused by the longer life span of women and the tendency for husbands to be older than their wives, means that many widows do not remarry.

THE IMPORTANCE OF MARRIAGE

There are other reasons besides lack of social support that can make the death of a spouse particularly traumatic for the surviving partner in our society.

Americans infuse marriage with enormous importance, entering it through personal choice and leaving it through divorce if it is not sufficiently satisfactory.

Each spouse, moreover, is expected to become involved in many of the other's social roles, and as a couple they develop a particular lifestyle.

Other social relationships, with the exception of parenting, are expected to be secondary to the marriage bond. Thus, the nuclear family is considered the main focal unit and source of emotional support, especially for the woman.

The death of the spouse is bound to have a profound effect on the survivor in cases in which the relationship is the very personal and emotional interdependent one that is idealized by many Americans.

A partner's death also disrupts those aspects of life in which the spouse had been involved as companion, source and object of love, and the person around whom time and work were organized.

In addition, the spouse has often provided the major source of identity, particularly for a woman. The disruption of these roles by death can result in feelings of desertion, of desolation, of loneliness, and sometimes of rejection.

The death of a spouse disrupts other social relations and role as well. A mother must develop new ways of acting as a parent. Children are affected by the loss of a father or mother and need special attention at the very time when the surviving partner is going through his or her own grief.

Friendships with the couple are often affected by the death of one of the partners. A widow, for example, may be regarded as a threat by a married woman, and the imbalance of the previous symmetry can cause married friends to pull away. A widower, on the other hand, whose wife had assumed the role of social secretary, may become isolated after her death.

FINANCIAL WORRIES

Financial as well as social problems often confront widows and widowers.

The death of the breadwinner can deprive the widow and the children of the main source of income. Social Security, when available, does not replace paychecks.

Employment outside the home is often difficult for widows with small children or those without suitable job skills.

The widower, too, may face heavy financial burdens if he must hire a homemaker. Men are often inefficient in the home, because of their upbringing and the prior division of labor.

It is important to remember that widows and widowers in America today form at least two historical generations — aged 64 and under, 65 and over — that are very different from Americans who will be widowed in the future.

Almost half of the present widows (48 percent), most of whom are old, were born into a non-industrialized society — on farms, in villages, or small towns, while slightly more than three-quarters are raised by non-urban parents. Many had minimal schooling.

Their lives have been difficult, especially if they are members of minority groups, as they raised their families through depression, wars, and inflation.

They witnessed tremendous changes, including the shift from an agricultural to an industrial society, with all the consequences on family and community life that attend such a change.

Many of these widows had been taught not to take an active role outside their home, and to work for pay only until marriage or the birth of their first child.

"Home" was relatively isolated from community life, from other families, and even from the extended kinship group.

As a result, many are unable to depend on anyone other than children for support, and the children grow up with a tendency to leave home.

It is difficult for women who had been primarily homemakers all their adult lives to restructure their relationships after their children leave and again after the death of their husbands.

Many widows thus become increasingly isolated, always having been on the periphery of the urban world, "urban villagers" without a village-like neighborhood to provide love and support.

COPING.

There are, in contrast, widows who are able to retain a close family network. There are widows who are truly active in neighborhood, church, and job.

There are widows who lead a truly urban life, utilizing the resources the society has developed to meet the social, service, emotional, and economic needs of its members.

These are the women with personal resources of ability, health, adequate finances, and past lifestyle habits to live independently, drawing to themselves support of their own choosing. They developed a network of relationships in marriage that they are able to continue, with modifications and replacements, in widowhood.

As our society moves into the future and women acquire more education and flexibility in moving in and out of the home and the job market, the numbers of such independent widows will expand.

We know much less about widowers because there have been few studies of their situation. According to a 1974 "U.S. News and World Report" survey comparing death, accident, alcoholism, and mental health statistics for widows and widowers, the men showed greater signs of personal disorganization than the women.

Yet our society seems less worried about widowers than widows — an attitude that reflects the traditional assumption that a woman cannot live independently without a man.

Recent research of metropolitan Chicago widows indicates that many are independent, and that the most personal resources rather than depending entirely on the resources provided by their husbands or children.

Many others, unfortunately, live very restrictively in spite of a vast network of resources that urban America has developed for its members in need.

Rabies clinic June 5

A rabies clinic will be held Tuesday, June 5, at the Granite City Humane Shelter on Highway 3, south of A. O. Smith Corp. It was announced this week by Andy Chiappa, humane officer.

Clinic hours will be from 5:30 p.m. until 7 p.m. June 5. Owners of pets will be charged $5 for each animal receiving a rabies inoculation.

Chiappa is reminding Granite City residents that rabies inoculations are required by state and city statutes.

Also required is the purchase of a city dog license at a fee of $1 for males and $2 for females.

Failure to inoculate a pet against rabies will result in a substantial impoundment fee, Chiappa cautioned local animal owners.

With warmer weather approaching and children shortly out of school the number of bite cases is expected to increase substantially, he said. In the summer months, between 15 and 20 incidents are reported each day involving dog bites, Chiappa stated.

Five dog bite cases were reported last weekend, one involving a 2-year-old child who was bitten on the ear. The owner of the dog still was being sought Tuesday.

To protect children and pets, owners should take advantage of the clinic to get all animals inoculated, he said.

The humane officer also urged residents to keep pets confined.

IEWS CYCLE THEFT

Eddie Ricks, Washington Park, told police at 2:20 p.m. Thursday that a man stole his motorcycle from 21st and Iowa streets. Ricks said he was in St. Elizabeth Medical Center when he looked out a window and saw the man tampering with the cycle. He went outside and the cycle was gone. A guard said it was driven on Quincy Street and then left on 20th Street. It is a blue-grey 1978 Kawasaki with a windshield.

UTENSILS STOLEN

The Dunbar school annex, located in the rear of the school, 800 Jackson St., Madison, was burglarized and numerous cooking utensils stolen. The theft was reported by a Head Start teacher who discovered a broken window and forced entry last week. Items taken included an electric toaster, a cooking skillet and an electric 20 cup coffee maker.

18th annual Kiwanis boat races scheduled

On Sunday, May 27, the Kiwanis Club of Granite City will sponsor its 18th annual East-West Championship professional boat races.

The races, held under the official auspices of the American Power Boat Association, will start at 1 p.m.

The entire program consisting of 12 races will feature boats capable of reaching speeds of 60 to 100 miles per hour depending on the class of boat and horsepower of the motor. Professional racers from various part of the country will gather to vie for the title of champion in each class of this event.

The races will be held on Horseshoe Lake at Illinois Highway 111 and State Aid Highway 35 approximately 15 miles from St. Louis, and Alton, and even closer to Collinsville and Edwardsville.

Cheese has a lot to offer you...it's delicious, nutritious and economical. We think you'll especially enjoy our own quality brands of natural and processed cheeses. Most of them made and packed at our plant in the green hills and valleys of Minnesota. There's a wonderful world of flavor and textures in the variety of cheese at Kroger...try several kinds this week. QUALITY AT A LOW PRICE...ISN'T THAT NICE.
